Representatives of Many Women's Clubs at Celebrity Breakfast

By RUTH BURNS

Under the able direction of Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, the second Celebrity Breakfast of the Newton Centre Woman's Club held last Friday at the Clubhouse was an overwhelming success. Mrs. Flagg is Chairman of the Literature Committee of the Club and a Director of the Boston Authors' Club. She and Mrs. John Gahan, President, with the honor guests, welcomed more than 250 members and out-of-town guests in the reception room, against a background of spring flowers. Daffodils predominated as the spring motive was again carried out in the auditorium where, following breakfast, the guests of honor were introduced and each spoke briefly.

Among these were Hon. Paul M. Goddard and Mrs. Goddard; Prince and Princess Wladislas Sapieha of Lwow, Poland. The Princess, who is a Hungarian by birth, is noted for her ability to interpret the Hungarian gypsy melodies, and has played in many European courts. She played "Rocallinda," a haunting gypsy song of her own selection, and the familiar "Blue Danube." Prof. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Dana, grandson of the poet Longfellow, whose new book, "Seven Soviet Plays," is just off the press, Herman Smith, noted New York chef and author of "Stina" and "Kitchens Far and Near," Mrs. Lucy Poate Stebbins, author of eight novels and co-author with her son, Dr. Richard Stebbins, of three biographies, Captain George W. Bailey, Army transport pilot who holds the world's record of 130 round trips flying the Hump; Miss Louise Horton, star of "Voice of the Turtle"; Alexander Karanikas who served as aide to Wilhelms in Fairbanks, Alaska. Republican City Committee Elects Officers

The meeting of the Republican City Committee was held Tuesday evening, April 2, 1946, at the Newtonville Women's Club, Washington Park. All of the various Wards of the City were well represented and it was a very enthusiastic meeting. The subject matters taken up were the importance of getting everyone to register for the coming primaries which this year are to be held on June 18th—this is earlier than they have ever been before. Also, to inform returning veterans just what (Continued on Page 5)

Red Cross Fund Campaign Huge Success

In expressing his thanks to the thousands of volunteer workers and contributors who made the 1946 Red Cross Fund drive a success, John S. Whittemore, chairman, reported that over $150,707 was collected during the month of March in Newton. "The fact that we met our quota in two weeks' time, and that we topped it by 167% at the end of the drive, shows how squarely the people of Newton are back of Red Cross," said Mr. Whittemore. "We are deeply grateful for the overwhelming support we received this year."

During the campaign, a letter was received at the Fund Office, with a check, which read: "As a member of the U. S. Army I visited and made use of the Red Cross Clubs in Casablanca, Port Lyautey, Oran, Bone, Bizerte, Tunis, Naples, Purple Heart Valley, Rome and Leghorn. I know from 2½ years of foreign service what an oasis in the desert your clubs were to all service men. Please accept the enclosed check from a grateful veteran." "This is just one small example of the type service Red Cross gives to the men and women in the armed forces," commented Mr. Whittemore, "and Newton's magnificent support will make it possible for us to continue to give such service to every man and woman still in uniform."

Know Your Public Health Nurse of The Newton Health Department And the District Nursing Assoc.

The Newton Health Department employs eight staff nurses and a supervisor to carry on the public health nursing activities of the department. Almost everyone refers to the nurses as "school nurses" and few realize that the school health program is only one of their functions. The city is divided into eight districts and each nurse is responsible for a generalized nursing service in her area. The program includes the fields of Pre-school, Public and Parochial Schools, Adult, Handicapped, Tuberculosis and other Communicable Diseases, Health Education, Mental Hygiene and Nutrition. Each nurse is also responsible for clinic services in Tuberculosis, Immunization and Dental Clinics and for the Pre-school Conference.

Aldermen Vote to Transfer $475,000 From Surplus to Hold Tax Rate

Although six members of the Newton Board of Aldermen were opposed to the plan of Mayor Paul M. Goddard to use $475,000 from the city's surplus account in order to prevent an increase in Newton's tax rate for 1946, the Board by a vote of 14 to 6 approved the plan at their meeting on Monday night.

Opponents of the plan were Aldermen Ernest G. Angevine, Julian D. Anthony, Carlos T. Pierce, Edward A. Fahey, William V. Tripp, Jr., and Warner Eustis. Their opposition to the plan was based largely on the contention that the surplus should be built up and preserved for times of emergency. Alderman Angevine contended that as (Continued on Page 5)

Transit Plans Discussed at Hearing Tuesday Evening

With more than 100 persons present including city officials and representatives of civic organizations, a hearing on the proposed extension of the Boston rapid transit system was held at Newton City Hall on Tuesday night by the Metropolitan Transit Recons Commission of the State Legislature.

Arthur W. Coolidge, president of the State Senate conducted the hearing assisted by Carroll L. Miens, administrative chairman of the commission.

In his opening remarks President Coolidge stated that the plan would not be undertaken until about ten years from now but that the recent tendency of the railroads to abandon suburban lines makes it necessary to make immediate plans to extend the Boston transit system. The plan calls for the use of the present Boston Elevated lines as a nucleus, adding the rights of way of railroads, and would operate in a radius of ten miles from the centre of the City of Boston.

As far as Newton is concerned, it is planned to use the roadbeds of the Boston & Albany Railroad, on both the main and circuit lines, over which electrically driven cars would be run, with terminals at Riverside and Needham, provided, "when and if" the Boston & Albany might discontinue its suburban service. The Commission is holding a series of public hearings throughout the district which would be served by the proposed system. Besides Coolidge and Miens, the members of the Commission are Peter J. Jordan, vice-chairman; Hallam T. Ring, secretary; Sen-

Tuberculosis and Health Assn. Now Operating as Separate Corporation

To Hold Annual Meeting at City Hall Tuesday, April 16

OFFICE GROUP—The sunny offices of the Newton Tuberculosis & Health Association, Inc. Full counselling services are given to any member of a tuberculous family.

An invitation to all interested adult members of the communities in Newton is extended by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, Inc., which holds its annual meeting on April 16th at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Building, City Hall, Newton.

The planned program is as follows:
8:00 p.m.—"Lease on Life" (a motion picture on tuberculosis released by the National Tuberculosis Association).
8:20 p.m.—"Newton Tuberculosis & Health Association—What it is and What it Hopes to Be" By Dr. Henry D.

Chadwick, president, Newton Tuberculosis & Health Association, Inc.

8:25 p.m.—"Commonwealth's Health Program and the Part of the Voluntary Health Association." By Dr. Vlado A. Getting, commissioner, Massachusetts State Department of Public Health.

9:00 p.m.—"Ways By Which Local Health Associations May Promote Healthy Living." By Dr. Reginald Fitz, president, Massachusetts Medical Society.

9:30 p.m.—Brief business meeting for the election of new board of directors. Examination of display of Health Educational Material.

This voluntary agency concerned with the prevention of tuberculosis in Newton was formerly a committee of the Family Service Bureau. Last year the committee was dissolved and an independent, incorporated agency was formed in its place. Under the new plan, thirty influential residents of the city constitute a board of directors to elect officers and to assume responsibility for the program to be undertaken. The funds come from the Christmas Seal sale.

The Association has established an office at 1357 Washington street in West Newton and has employed an executive-secretary-rehabilitation worker, Mrs. E. Gale Whittemore, whose chief activity at present is counseling with the Newton tuberculous and their friends (of whom there are many more than one would expect). While working with the patients in institutions or with families in their homes she discovers opportunities for re-education. (Continued on Page 5)

Managed Or Mis-Managed

Here we are, with the greatest productive capacity we have ever known, and facing shortages which, in some instances are greater than during the war. Surely the advocates of a managed economy must see this, but as yet we do not see them coming forward with any concrete suggestions as to how to remedy this illogical situation. Can it be that our managed economy is being mis-managed or poorly managed, or can it be that the theory of a managed economy is not applicable to this country at all? The sooner this suggestion is decided, the better.

Members of Congress are said to have called the suggestion of the National Association of Manufacturers, that all controls be lifted, "politically stupid." Congress may find it to be at least poor political strategy to maintain controls at such levels that the voting public cannot get the things it wants.

Catholic Welfare Committee Elects Officers

At a recent meeting of the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee the following officers were elected:

President, Edward C. Michaud of 202 Neholden road, Waban; 1st Vice-president, Thomas F. Kenney of 21 Elliot terrace, Newton Upper Falls; 2nd Vice-president, John J. Guiney of 19 Samoset road, Waban; Recording Secretary, Peirce J. Haley of 70 Withington road, Newtonville, and re-elected were John J. Cahill of 31 Lexington street, West Newton as Financial Secretary and Rev. Michael E. Doherty, pastor of the Church of Our Lady, Newton as treasurer.

This organization which is a member of the Newton Community Chest, represents the St. Vincent de Paul Society of five Newton parishes, also the St. Bernard's Aid Society of West Newton. Both of these organizations have volunteer workers doing social service work among Catholic families in the city of Newton.

HOW Veteran "X" saves—

$2,000 in Mortgage Interests

The other day, a young veteran came in to ask us about arranging a loan to buy a $10,000 house. "Under the G. I. Bill," he said, "that means no money down, twenty years to pay, doesn't it?"

"That's right!" we said. "You can buy it that way, thanks to the government. But—let's talk things over a bit! Maybe you can make even better terms!"

He'd never thought of that! Imagine his delight when he found he could save $2,000 in interest, five and a half years in time, by investing $2,000 of his own money. He still takes advantage of the low-interest rate guaranteed by the G. I. Bill—but he'll own his own house free and clear sooner, and at less cost.

For veteran and non-veteran alike, we have many flexible mortgage plans—suited to your particular home financing needs. Many are explained in our new booklet, "A Friendly Chat About Mortgages". Why not send for it (without obligation, of course) today!

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Councillor Whitney

It is not yet quite one year since my good friend Frank A. Brooks of West Concord passed away. Despite that, we have now the second man to serve in his post in the Governor's Council. First there was former Rep. Carl A. Sheridan of Framingham, who has recently retired to accept another position along civic development lines, and right now we have another good friend of your columnist, Col. Otis M. Whitney of Concord, a former Representative in the State Legislature and a man who has built up a splendid record in World War 2. As a matter of fact, many of the new Councillor's friends were most anxious to draft Whitney for the position at the time of Frank Brooks' death. However, Col. Whitney was still in the army at that time and did not see fit to ask for retirement in order to run for public office. In this connection, it is of interest to note that former Councillor Brooks and the present Councillor were great admirers of each other.

All this, however, is not the end of the story. There is another Republican who has evinced considerable interest in serving in the Council. This man is Rep. Perley D. Chase of Boston, whose name was considered by the Legislature prior to the election a few days ago. That is to say, Chase's name was considered by the G.O.P. caucus, as I understand the situation. Whitney won out, but Chase's friends apparently sent up a trial balloon to see if the Democrats in the Legislature would join with the Chase Republicans when the actual election took place. As it turned out, the Democrats ran their own man, Rep. Maurice Sullivan of Brighton, and he secured the regular Democratic vote, but nothing more. As you may have noted in the press, the division was along strictly party lines both in the House and in the Senate. As this column is being written it is assumed that Rep. Chase will contest Whitney's seat in the June primaries. The Concord man will, of course, have the benefit of the words "candidate for re-election" on the ballot and that is always a distinct help.

Rep. Chase, however, is a tireless and resourceful campaigner and will undoubtedly force Col. Whitney to make a real fight to hold his seat. As I view the situation now, the latter will probably have the backing of a large segment of the so-called G.O.P. organization. That is very important. Personally, I shall be delighted if the Concord man holds his seat. State Senate

You could have knocked me over with a feather when I learned the other day that my old friend, Major Loomis Patrick, a recently announced candidate for the State Senate, from which our present senator Benjamin J. Bowen is retiring, might have opposition in the June primaries. That sort of thing just isn't done in Newton. As a matter of fact, I probably will not believe it unless and until another candidate blossoms forth. This much, however, is certain. If the man who is very seriously considering running for Senator Bowen's seat actually does run, there will be a real battle.

And listen to this. There is another good Republican in Newton, a man of substantial calibre whom all the politicians know well, who would probably have thrown his hat in the ring if Loomis Patrick had not moved so fast. This does not sound like the good old days, does it?

This leads me to another allied thought, which I shall refer to briefly in my next paragraph.

Plan E for Newton

We all read a good deal in the local paper about that Plan E meeting at Norumbega Park. Unfortunately, it was impossible for me to be on hand, so I only know what I read about it plus what a few people who attended passed on to me.

Now, there are two points worthy of note. First, is it not striking that there appears to be so much interest in Plan E in a community like Newton, which most people consider one of the best and most efficiently governed communities in the entire state? Secondly, it is very significant to learn the names of some of the citizens of Newton who are quite frankly giving serious consideration to the wisdom of adopting Plan E here. This is not the time to "sound-off" and record names, partly because some of those in favor of the Plan E scheme are not yet ready to come out publicly and so declare themselves.

What motivates some of these people? A number of things. Cambridge has done so remarkably well that there is speculation as to whether or not Newton might not do equally well. Again, there have always been a great many citizens who felt that Newton should, if possible, have the services of a full-time chief executive. After all, a city of our size constitutes big business and no sound business concern would consider operating with a half-time President, even if he was an unusually high-grade and capable man. And finally, there have been rumblings beneath the surface which make some people feel that it may not be so easy in the future to draft a strong man for Mayor. A weak man or

Spring Fling

Well, if last week we were minus a title, we definitely have one now. And the Eliot Arts Guild's "Spring Fling" will be presented on the evenings of May 8th and 9th.

Perhaps at this point a little more might be said of the various elements which will be responsible for the gayest of spring frolics.

Music naturally will be of main importance, and music which will have its own varied flavor due to the efforts of anybody and everybody in the Guild who has a musical idea in his head to offer. Dick Grimm is chairman of the octet, a group of men and boys who like to sing. We have only a hint as to the music already chosen by the octet for "Spring Frolic," and that, we hear, will be rousing with a dash of the romantic here and there.

The younger groups are also making their musical contributions in light opera favorites and current popular tunes.

Mrs. Virginia Pierce will direct dancing and has plans for several solo numbers and clever burlesques.

Drama will also have its fling this Spring as Dorothy Howe has already chosen a colorful melodrama, "They Ain't Done Right by Nell." Casting for this short play will be done at the next meeting of the Arts Guild when all those who are interested may try out for the various roles.

Now these sundry aspects of "Spring Fling" must seem almost skeleton-like. They are. True is the statement of the proverbial vaudevillian: "It's only the beginning, folks, only the beginning." But next week there will be more ideas taking form and more personalities to paint.

The next mass meeting of the Eliot Arts Guild will be held in the chapel at eight o'clock on April 10th.

Keep remembering the "Spring Frolic" for in May with the help of your artistic ideas, it will be a reality.

a man chosen in a free-for-all political dog-fight might cause the city to lose much ground.

ON THE INSIDE

by MARVIN R. GOULD

At this time your reporter would like to say a little about Ralph M. Sanborn, Faculty Manager of all Athletics at Newton High School. Unknown to most of the students, Sanborn was formerly coach of Varsity football, assisted in track, basketball, baseball, and hockey. There isn't any sport that he hasn't had something to do with at one time or another. He is quite active in athletics at the present time even though he isn't a coach at present. Among the various athletic groups he belongs to are, Eastern Umpires Association, Eastern Mass. Basketball Officials Association, New England Football Officials Association, American Football Coaches Association, President of The Faculty Managers Association, and President of the Greater Boston Inter-scholastic Hockey League. When asked by yours truly for his opinion of Newton's athletic status in the future, he replied, "There is a possibility that in the near future we will have bigger and better stands for both football, outdoor track, and baseball. We have the best rounded athletic program at the present time that the school has ever had. We have the finest staff of coaches and student managers of any High School around."

For the fifth year in succession, the intramural N.H.S. basketball games have had a wonderful turnout. Out of the thirteen teams based on a strict elimination basis, we have the following four teams surviving. These teams have been outstanding through the entire tourney, so here they are together with their ace players, for the Celtics, Bill Claffin, John McCardle, Dick Gallant, Bob Brotherhood, Don Gleason, and Woody Crowther. The B.W.'s have able players too, such as: Neal Rooke, who plays a flashing game of "running" guard while his partner Ken Senior, also plays a wonderful game at the guard position. Then there is Larry Supple at the forward slot who plays a cozy game, assisted by Earl Brasewell at center; George Hill, the team's founder, plays a defensive game, what some basketball players would term a set-up man. With the help of guard, Billy Hill. The hopes of getting Jack Learmonth as a guard so George can put Neal Rooke in as forward is still at a standstill. It is interesting to know, just for a sidelight, how the manager, coach, captain, and what not, George Hill decided upon a name for his team. He told yours truly that Ken Senior, Bill Hill, Neal Rooke, Larry Supple and himself always made a dash for the Newton Student Canteen every day after school to play bridge. One day George struck on the name Blackwood, which translated into simple English means, when your partner in bridge bids four no trump he opens a B. W. convention, this enables the players to go for a grand slam, take the word grand slam and you have a crackerjack club. So the B. W.'s were named. Another great team is the Flawless with such players as: Dick Fernald, Leo Appell, Bill Alterie, Bob Rosenberg, Hollis Killam, Dick Barker, and John Gwyn. The Auto Mechs are also deserving of plenty of thought as far as the other three teams are concerned. So, to all, let's wish them the best of luck and may they always be good sports.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen From The Newton League of Women Voters

THE POLITICIAN'S APOCALYPSE

At one point in a current popular play, a character steps forward to comment on the pattern of our elections, saying: as long as voters take no part in the primaries, as long as the people are prejudiced, lazy, ignorant—and uninterested, we add—so long will the politicians pick the candidates, get out the vote, and control the vote. It seems like a sweeping indictment, but let us look at the record: a large number of citizens are "traditional" voters who inherit their policies, refuse to analyze the candidates who are set up before them like so many clay pigeons, and generally vote in sectional blocs. Another large group are those who "don't want to have anything to do with politics," a delicate intimation that sets them apart from what is vulgar, and which is as much a hold-over as the horse-drawn surrey. It is a massive task to educate ourselves out of an attitude which criticizes representatives for lacking "human" values, while we settle privately for political "realism."

Unlike appeals for the hungry and destitute, there is no immediate return for energy expended in working on registration or urging people to vote in the primaries, except that so much that involves our strength and emotions today can be traced to the "prejudice, laziness and ignorance" of a generation ago.

Lawn Grass Seed

Have you ever looked with envy at the fine grass grown on the golf courses? Well that excellent turf did not just happen.

A fine lawn or any area of fine turf is the result of the proper care after good seeds have germinated. You MUST START with good seed.

We have supplied the New England Golf Clubs with many carloads of grass seeds during these past 20 odd years.

The seeds we mix for the lawn trade comes from the very same bags used for golf seed mixtures. In fact some mixtures are exactly the same.

We buy ALL of our grass seeds in bulk bags from the growers or cleaners. We buy only the BEST the market affords. Every mixture you buy from us has OUR label which not only shows the purity but the germination of the individual seeds. EVERY lot is tested and so marked on the label. Who can offer more?

Children Like To Eat

Does your child like to eat? Here's Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hauke, a happy child. He thinks eating is fun. This is no accident, his parents are the ones who set the stage, so that he enjoys mealtime. Good food, offered in a cheerful, matter-of-fact manner is the clue to helping children learn to like all kinds of food.

Why do some children eat everything and others only a few foods? To answer this question and others which parents are asking, a panel discussion on "Children's Eating Habits" is being arranged by the Newton Nutrition Center in cooperation with other community agencies. Some of the members of this panel are a child psychologist, a pediatrician, a public health nurse, a mother, a social worker, and a nutritionist.

Mothers and fathers are invited to attend, to listen, and to join in the discussion.

The meeting is being held in the War Memorial Building, City Hall, on Wednesday, April 10, 1946 at 3 o'clock.

Eating Habits of Children Subject of Panel Discussion

A group of Newton's experts attacked the problem of "Developing Good Eating Habits in Children" at a panel discussion recently at the Clafin School. Professional workers interested in children attended the meeting, with representation from Newton's nursery and elementary schools, Newton Health Department, as well as the agencies of the Newton Community Center.

The panel was led by Mrs. Virginia Sargent of the Newton Nutrition Center. Other members included Dr. Katharine McKinnon, School Nurse; Miss Margaret Barry, Social Worker, Newton Family Service Bureau; Miss Frances Lindy, Social Worker, Newton Welfare Department; Miss Mary Reeves, Nutritionist, Harvard School of Public Health.

Mrs. Sargent stated that poor food habits are common among Newton children. The experts discussed some of the problems that baffle parents. For example, "What should I do if my child refuses to drink milk?" "The opinion of the panel was—Don't make an issue out of it; keep mealtime pleasant; and include the milk in cooking foods which the child enjoys. Other questions raised in the discussion included: "How strict a schedule should I adhere to with my baby?" "What should I do if my child dawdles at the table?" Is breast feeding important in developing good food habits?"

Realizing the interest of Newton parents in this meeting, the Nutrition Center has arranged to have the same panel meet again and discuss these questions for the parents. This meeting will be held in Memorial Hall, City Hall, on April 10, 1946, at 3 p.m. All parents are invited to come and bring their problems for discussion.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The members of the Newton Upper Falls Women's Club were treated to an unusual musical concert on Monday evening, April 1, in the Kindergarten rooms of the Ralph Waldo Emerson school.

Mr. H. Whipple Abbott, accompanied by his sister, Miss Margaret F. Abbott of Brookline, gave a musical program from a very rare instrument called the "Theorin Virtuoso".

This instrument is played without strings, in a thrilling exhibition of magnetic control, through air, by the operator, who held the audience spellbound and mystified as he interpreted some of the musical themes most loved. At the will of the interpreter this instrument could sustain its tone to outreach the limitations of the bow of the violinist, it could speak tenderly as a mother to her child, it could swell into a volume beyond the capacity of any instrument of strings.

Am with readings, charmingly rendered. Miss Abbott read a beautiful poem written in appreciation of this wonderful instrument by a listener.

Ralph Sanguinetti of the Newton Savings Bank, a past president of the Newton Lions Club spoke at the last meeting of the Lions on "Friendship." He was introduced by President Asa Blakeslee and was greeted by the members with a chorus of "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow." Lion Sanguinetti stressed the need for friendship in the world today and said that only through friendliness and cooperative effort could peace be maintained and the UNO be successful. He mentioned that the three most sought after blessings for which we could pray are Health, Happiness and Friendship. Health, he continued was God-given, happiness from within the mind, but Friendship and friendliness were gifts within our power to bestow. Speaking of it as the greatest gift he mentioned that the more of it you bestowed, the more abundant supply you found you still had left.

Lion Zone Chairman Calvin Brown was present and reported on various Lions International matters. He also told of the tremendous gain in membership which Lions everywhere are enjoying. During the month of January alone, 28,348 new members joined Lions Clubs swelling the total membership to almost 260,000, represented by 5,300 different clubs in 16 nations.

Criminologist Tells Kiwanis Club Crime Doesn't Pay

Mr. Henry Mascarello, Executive Secretary, of the United Prison Association of Massachusetts, discussing "Prisons, Parole and the Lawes Report," at the noon meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, Wednesday, declared that the bill for the support and maintenance of inmates in Massachusetts reformatories and prisons, is a staggering one.

There are now, Mr. Mascarello stated, between six and eight thousand persons serving time in state institutions, and the cost of maintenance is about eight hundred and sixty-five dollars per year for each inmate.

Charlestown State Prison was built in 1805 and after 73 years of service, was declared to be too antiquated for further use as a prison, according to the speaker, being abandoned in 1878 in favor of the new "maximum security prison," in Concord. After six years, however, the prison, at Concord, becoming overcrowded, the Charlestown plant, having been used as a storehouse in the meantime, was again pressed into service, as a prison for major criminals, and has been in constant use since that time.

Mr. Mascarello said new institutions are needed for the care of defective delinquents, the criminally insane and chronic alcoholics. All three are now housed at the Bridgewater State Farm—600 alcoholics at last count. A hospital in Norfolk, for the criminally insane, has been advocated for years, he added.

During the question period, he agreed that "the Parole Board was too severe—the food at Charlestown Prison had been extremely bad and that the prisoners should have an opportunity to earn a small wage." Before the war, prisoners earned an average of twenty-eight dollars a year, most of it by manufacture of automobile license plates, a revenue lost to them now.

He declined to predict the future attitude of the Parole Board, but informed his listeners that the management of the food for prisoners at Charlestown had changed hands. The men are now eating better and it's costing the state less money. A plan is also being devised whereby the inmates will be given an opportunity to earn up to twenty cents per day.

Questioned by Chief of Police Vedeccio, Mr. Mascarello said that of Warden Lawes' twenty-two recent recommendations for a better penal system, nineteen similar recommendations were made in the year 1850, again in 1878 and 1905! The trouble in prisons is caused, not by a lack of knowledge of what to do, so as to eliminate it, but by lack of action, it was disclosed.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Spring Musicale at the Newtonville Woman's Club, arranged by Mrs. Carl H. Baesler, Chairman of Music, drew a capacity audience of members and guests on Tuesday afternoon, April 2nd. The artists participating were Miss Virginia Sellars, Lyric Soprano; Helen Bedford, Harpist and Edith Stearns, Pianist.

Miss Sellars, whose lovely voice has been heard in all the larger cities throughout the country with the Columbia Opera Company, gave two delightful groups. The first consisting of operatic selections, "Solva Opa-er," from William Tell; Musetta's Waltz Song, from La Boheme by Puccini and "Caro Mio Ben" by Giordani. The second group was composed of modern works: "As We Part," by Algenfritz; "Matinata," by Leoncavallo; "Think on Me," by Scott, and "Floods of Spring," by Rachmaninoff.

Helen Bedford, Harpist, is a pupil of the internationally known teacher of the harp, Mildred Dilling, and has had a wide orchestral experience with celebrated bands and orchestras. Her selections were, "Spring Song," by Hasselmann; "Bourree by Bach"; Chanson du 17 century, by Pirelhout, and Reverie also by Hasselmann. In her second group were the Prelude to Lucia by Donizetti; Au Rouet, by Zabel and LaGitarra by the same composer.

Miss Edith Stearns, one of Boston's finest young musicians, is a favorite with Newton Audiences. She is a member of the Music Faculty of Boston University and has appeared frequently as soloist with the Boston Pops under the direction of Arthur Fiedler. Her selections were Rondo in D Major by Mozart; Gigue from French Suite in G, by Bach; Etude in E Major by Chopin, and Ondine by Ravel. Her fine musicianship was well applauded by an appreciative audience.

The meeting opened at 2:30 p.m., with the singing of America, led by Mrs. Baesler, with Mrs. Harold G. Osterland at the piano. Miss Estelle G. Marsh, president, welcomed the large number of members and friends present.

Mrs. Hugh A. McCrea, chairman of Ways and Means, who has had the difficult task of raising the funds for the numerous philanthropies of the club, gave her final report for the year and stated that her committee had gone over the top in raising the amount set. She graciously thanked the members who had assisted her this past winter, and warmly praised the members of her own committee who had helped her so constantly.

Rotary Club

Professor Richard Doherty, head of Department of Economics of Boston University, was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary club on Friday, speaking on "The Challenge of Labor Relations."

Prof. Doherty mentioned that one thing we had to get out of our minds to start with was the complacency of strife now going on and tried to give a true picture of the labor relations situation as it really is. There is wide misunderstanding between labor and management; at the bottom of the deck is political expediency of administration in handling the whole situation instead of sound economic purpose. He pointed out one or two things for instance, how the faulty idea of price control by the government by freezing commodity prices at the top. To really succeed on price control you have to fix prices all the way down the line, labor, raw materials, and all the way from start to finish. They did try to fix labor's wages, but the rising cost of living put the pressure on labor and that blew the top off the situation. He mentioned that industrial peace will never come from having a militant attitude, and did say that management is far removed from actual labor; a personnel man representing the president of the company, or some one in between who has a militant attitude which has to be overcome before there is peace. He said that all relations between labor and management are like a marriage contract, that two people going into a church for a few minutes and making certain promises does not guarantee an harmonious marriage. It is the day by day relations, just as labor and management have to live together day by day. An example of good labor relations is the printing trade, where disputes are automatically settled by arbitration. There is seldom a strike in the newspaper game.

The meeting opened at 2:30 p.m., with the singing of America, led by Mrs. Baesler, with Mrs. Harold G. Osterland at the piano. Miss Estelle G. Marsh, president, welcomed the large number of members and friends present.

THE HUM-M-M IS YOUR "GO AHEAD" SIGNAL

Please wait for it before dialing

Usually you'll hear the steady "hum-m-m" of the dial tone almost immediately upon lifting your receiver. That's your signal to "go ahead" and begin dialing your number. When you dial before you hear the dial tone, you'll get a wrong number—or no number at all. Jiggling the receiver hampers your call, too... forces it to begin all over at the Central Office.

In certain circumstances, dial equipment becomes overloaded. That's because in many places we have temporarily connected more telephones to the Central Office than we would normally, in order to give more people service. At such times, there may be a delay of some seconds before you get the dial tone. Remember... it will help you and everyone get swifter service if you'll wait for the dial tone's continuous hum.

DELAY in getting the dial tone does not usually mean that anything is wrong with your line. Normally, it indicates that central office equipment is temporarily overloaded. Please do not report your line out of order without first allowing plenty of time to bear the dial tone.

New Telephone Service Acclaimed By Newton Residents

For the past few months many people have been inquiring about the number DECatur 9700 as this number has been broadcast on radio stations, in daily newspapers and in The Graphic. I look forward to the day when private families will be able to check back and see if there has been any calls while they were out for an evening or an afternoon walk."

Paramount Chats

By R. A. M.
The Paramount Theatre, Newton, has in the making a Box Office Rating Barometer. This Barometer will register the rating of each feature picture in advance of its playing dates and will be placed in the Lobby of the theatre for all to see. For instance, "The Lost Weekend" which starts Sunday, April 7, and plays for 4 days has a rating of 162. The second feature "River Gang" has a rating of 97.

"The Lost Weekend" as you no doubt know won the Academy Award as the best picture of the year and star Ray Milland received his "Oscar" for the best male star performance. This film packs a powerful wallop and you should not miss it. It vividly paints the folly of drink, thus a lesson is taught. Classification, adults audience.

The Paramount has also received a great many favorable comments on its new sound equipment "The Voice of the Theatre." If you have made no comment as yet the management would appreciate a card telling them of your reaction on hearing it.

Another hit for the ball team is in the making, this time a printed program of Coming Attractions, Thursday through Saturday, April 11-12-13, by popular demand the Paramount will play the adventures of "Tom Sawyer" (in technicolor) with Tommy Kelly and May Robson, also the "Prisoner of Zenda" with Ronald Colman and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Don't forget kids a new serial "King of the Forest Rangers" starts Saturday, April 6th.

Music School Anniversary Dinner April 5

So great has been the interest and enthusiasm over the dinner planned to observe the thirty-fifth anniversary of the All Newton Music School, that a week before April fifth, the day set for the celebration at the Newton Y.M.C.A. It is sincerely hoped that friends whose reservations came in too late will know how very sorry the committee is that they could not be accommodated owing to the limited seating capacity of the hall.

At intervals during the evening, music will be furnished by students of the Music School. The speakers will include Dr. J. Edgar Park, Honorable Sinclair Weeks, Dr. Homer Anderson, Miss Mabel T. Eager, Mr. Frederick S. Bacon, and Miss Elizabeth Fyffe, Founder of the school, and guest of honor, Mr. Frank A. Day, Jr. will be master of ceremony.

Among those sponsoring the affair are Miss Mabel T. Eager, Honorary President, and Mrs. George H. Fernald, President. Others include Mrs. George N. Abbott, Winslow H. Adams, Mrs. John T. Alden, Mrs. Frederick Bacon, Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Frank A. Day, Jr., Mrs. A. Philip Guiles, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Mrs. Ernest Hale, William P. Helms, John C. Jones, Jr., Mrs. Ernest Lebert, Mrs. Kirtley F. a member of the Recess Commission making a study to re-codify insurance laws in the state and member and clerk of the Committee on Conservation. A resident of Newtonville for many years, Whittemore has taken an active interest in community affairs. He has been associated with the Community Chest campaigns in various capacities including the chairmanship for Newtonville of the Special Gifts Division, and was, during the last Chest drive, chairman of the Metropolitan Retail Division. He has been devotedly interested in the work of the Newtonville Improvement Association.

Whittemore was chairman of the Newton Red Cross Fund Drive, just concluded, during which the amount raised exceeded the goal of $90,000 by more than $60,000. For this outstanding accomplishment Whittemore disclaims any personal credit. "Without the splendid cooperation of the many enthusiastic volunteer workers associated with me," he stated, "this gratifying result could not have been achieved."

Rep. Whittemore is secretary and treasurer of the Eastern Commercial Travelers Association of Boston.

Health Nurse Aldermen—

All functions of the nurses of the Health Department are of fered to the entire community without regard to financial status. The only exception to this is that dental clinic service is offered only to families who cannot afford to go to their private dentist and here the nurse must determine eligibility before making appointment.

All of the public health nurses are graduate nurses with an R. N. in Massachusetts and are under civil service appointment. All have taken public health nursing courses and carry on in-service education.

The number of nurses employed by the Health Department has not kept pace with the growth and demands of the program. According to the national standard of one nurse to every 2000 school children, all the department's eight nurses could be used for the school health program alone. The national standard of one nurse to every 2000-3000 general population is not met with the combined public health nursing staffs of the Newton Health Department and the Newton District Nursing Association. Together they represent 18 nurses to 78,000 population which is far below the recommended national ratio.

To keep in line with the growth of the nation in its health emphasis and particularly to allow for health education on a family basis, Newton must look forward to the employment of more public health nurses in the future.

The following radio networks will participate in observance of Public Health Nurse Week, April 7-13, by incorporating in their regular programs, information regarding the work of the Public Health Nurse:

WEDDINGS

Guild - Allen

White gladioli and snapdragon decorated the First Unitarian Church in West Newton last Saturday evening for the marriage of Miss Priscilla Lucas Allen and Robert Rayford Guild, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Guild of Concord, formerly of Newton Centre. The eight o'clock candlelight service was performed by the Rev. Dr. Herbert Hitchen. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mervin Allen of 19 Birch Hill road, Newtonville.

With her gown of white satin brocade and net, the bride wore a net veil, edged with Rosepoint lace, formerly worn by her mother. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jeremiah M. Allen, Jr., of Durham, North Carolina. Mrs. Allen wore a gown of turquoise taffeta and carried a bouquet of spring flowers. The bridesmaids, gowned in rose taffeta and carrying spring flowers, were Mrs. Frederick Kremer of New York City, Mrs. Samuel Mason of Boston, Miss Mary McKenna of West Newton, and Miss Elizabeth Barron of Newtonville.

Richard Guild, of Concord, was the best man for his brother, and the ushers were Sherman J. Grough of West Newton, William Baxter and Emil P. Moser of Newton Centre, Moses R. Lovell, Jr., of New York City, and the bride's brother, Jeremiah M. Allen, Jr., of North Carolina. Mrs. Guild is a graduate of Edgewood Park Junior College. A reception at Brae Burn Country Club followed the marriage on March 30, of Miss Elizabeth Parker Farley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Baker Farley of 44 Bulloughs Park, Newtonville, and Stanton Kent Gleason of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, son of Mr. John K. Brown and Mr. Charles B. Gleason.

Freesia marked the family pew in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, for the ceremony performed by the Rev. Randolph S. Merrill. Other decorations at the eight o'clock candlelight service were white tulips, snapdragon, Easter lilies and fern.

The bride carried her grandmother's prayerbook, with an orchid on the cover and streamers of ribboned staphanotis for the ceremony and for the reception a bouquet of gardenias and freesia. Given in marriage by her father, she wore a white tulle gown and a long tulle veil trimmed with heirloom Belgium point lace. The gown had been worn by her sister, Mrs. Rodney P. MacPhee, at her wedding last fall. Mrs. MacPhee, as matron of honor, and Miss Berry Bonnyne of Bronxville, New York, as maid of honor, both wore yellow jersey gowns. Their crowns of gold leaves were complimented by bouquets of yellow tulips and yellow freesia. Coral gerbera was combined with yellow Marguerites in the bridesmaids' bouquets. An Oriental Rug needs care.

When it first begins to wear,
If you think perhaps you'll wait,
You'll find someday that it's too late.
While you linger, colors fade,
Holes grow larger, moths invade.
You're only building future cost
For with neglect, your rug is lost.
You surely will regret delay,
So call GREGORIAN today.

OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

We're not suggesting that you pitch a tepee on our doorstep. But we know how much you, like so many other car owners, want B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns on your car, and we know why. Because you have heard that:

1. The new, better synthetic rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich makes Silvertowns run cooler, wear longer than prewar tires.
2. The 35% stronger tire body is made possible by a new, stronger cord, more cords per inch in the top ply, and an extra shock-absorbing breaker strip.
3. The new wider, flatter "road level" tread puts more rubber on the road to share the wear and provide quicker stops, better traction, and more safety on the turns.
4. More than 2,000 tests and 17,000,000 miles of the toughest kind of actual road service developed that the new B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns outwears prewar natural rubber tires.

Treasury Citation For Sherman

Secretary of the Treasury, Fred M. Vinson, has just awarded an official commendation to the Sherman Paper Products Corporation of Newton Upper Falls. The award was made in recognition of the Sherman employees' participation in the Payroll Savings Plan for Investing in War Bonds and Stamps.

The citation takes note of the fact that a large percentage of the War Bond total sales has been achieved through this plan of industry-employee cooperation. Under the leadership of D. S. Roberts, Director of Operations, and Harold T. Pillsbury, Personnel Director, 100 percent of the Sherman employees invested nearly a million dollars in bonds, and won the honor of flying the Treasury flag over their plant. With the cessation of hostilities there has been some falling-off, but still over sixty percent of the employees are investing eight percent of their total earnings.

George Sherman, President of the firm, in accepting the award, pledged that his company would continue to keep the Payroll Savings Plan in effect as long as the Treasury Department deems it advisable and necessary.

Easter Seal Campaign

The Easter Seal campaign of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped is now in its third week and before its conclusion Easter Sunday more than $80,000,000 attractive Easter Seals are expected to be sold. The society conducts all of its operations within Massachusetts although closely affiliated with the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. It operates in such a way as never to trespass upon the work or campaigns of other organizations.

Many of the most prominent men and women of the Commonwealth have volunteered their support and are giving their time and efforts to make this Easter Seal campaign a complete success. To purchase a sheet of these attractive little seals is contributing to a most worthy cause. Cases treated are those which have no other means of aid and the fund raised from the sale of the seals bring relief and assistance to these unfortunate people.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

On the Spot

Last week I spoke of the possibility that there might be a real contest for the Republican nomination to the State Senate, from which the present Senator, Hon. Benjamin J. Bowen is retiring at the end of this year. However, I also suggested that Newton was the last place in which one would expect a battle between two strong candidates. Ordinarily, the powers that be see to it that one of the two defers his candidacy until a more propitious time or else run for some other office. Maybe the war has changed this procedure. Maybe some of the insiders have become tired of smoothing out such situations. Be that as it may, we are now witnessing a first class contest between two unusually high-grade public servants, former Rep. Loomis Patrick and former Alderman Richard H. Lee. The former, a West Newton resident, came out of world war 2 as a Lt. Col.; the latter, a resident of Newton Corner, came out as a Colonel.

Why is your columnist on the spot right now? For the simple reason that he considers himself a sincere friend of both men and has known each of them for a good many years. My readers may recall that in 1944, two short years ago, I ran for the State Legislature as a military substitute for Loomis Patrick. And I was a military substitute, with no ifs, ands or buts. Furthermore, I have good reason to believe that some of Loomis Patrick's friends and supporters helped my candidacy. On the other hand, I have had an unusually delightful friendship with the Lee family for quite a few years and I have a genuine admiration and respect for them.

What to do? Well, both men are fine citizens of Newton, have served it well, and have sufficient ability, knowledge and personality to continue to be of substantial service. At this writing, it seems to me that I shall have to do something rather unusual for a man who has never been accused by anybody, friend or otherwise, of dodging an issue. In other words, I shall have to sit out this one. It is a pity that EITHER man should be doomed to defeat.

Your Move, Col. Lodge

Now that Senator David I. Walsh has at long last made his decision to run for re-election this year, it will be necessary for Col. Henry Cabot Lodge to make up his mind very soon as to what course he will pursue. Everybody knows that he does not relish the idea of battling the Senior Senator now or at any other time. It is not that he is afraid that he might be defeated. It is because he appears to have considerable admiration for many of the veteran Senator's characteristics and qualifications. After all, Senator Walsh did do a lot to help the former Junior Senator when the latter first came to Washington.

The above is realism. In theory, of course, we might expect Col. Lodge to express his willingness to do anything within his power to help the Republican party. The best way to help would be, naturally, to make the race against Walsh. There is no other G.O.P. candidate who could do half as well as Lodge against the veteran from Clinton. If Lodge declines to run, the G.O.P. will have to rely on the vote-getting ability of former State Senator Sybil H. Holmes of Boston, formerly of Brookline, or on the ability of some other candidate who may pop up before nominations have closed. Miss Holmes, by the way, in her recent announcement, made the statement that she would withdraw if either Col. Lodge or former U. S. Senator Sinclair Weeks of our city should announce their intention of running. There is also the rumor that former State Senator Mason Sears of Dedham would be willing to run. Sears is a fine man and has a very good record. However, he is not nearly well enough known in the state as a whole to be a Senator Walsh unduly. There will very likely be some important developments in this situation within a few days. Watch the papers closely.

State Treasurer

It was amazing to learn a few days ago that John L. Hurley of Brookline, a Republican with an excellent record, was willing to run for the office of State Treasurer provided that former State Senator Laurence Curtis of Boston would change his mind about running for a third time, but that Curtis flatly refused to give way. This, by the way, I have on excellent authority. So, we have a situation in which a man who has taken two straight defeats for the same office, declines to give another Republican a chance to show what he can do. And do not forget this fact. The magic name of Hurley has been associated with the post of Treasurer for many, many years. John L. Hurley could, therefore, count on getting a lot of votes in an election which Curtis would never get. Too bad that a really fine man like Curtis cannot be made to see the light and make a generous gesture in behalf of his party.

Weekly Quiz

Space limitations eliminated the answer to my quiz of a fortnight ago in last week's issue. The names of the two men who preceded City Clerk Grant and City Solicitor Bartlett in office are Isaac F. Kingsbury and Elias B. Bishop, respectively. It is doubtful if more than a handful of Newtonians knew the answer. This week's question is: "Does the Mayor receive the highest salary of any public servant in Newton? How much is it? If he does NOT receive the highest salary, who does?"

That the Newton Free Library is a live institution is shown by the fact that its work is ever on the increase. In January and February, 1921, its book circulation increased about 11,000 volumes over the corresponding months of last year. Based on the 1920 work that is about a 15% increase.

The Community Service Club of West Newton gave a very unique and interesting entertainment in the parish house of the Second Church on Wednesday evening. The entertainment was a varied one. Mrs. Virginia Denney-Birgfeld of West Newton sang very attractively. Mrs. Pitt Drew and Mr. Philip Carter of West Newton gave a skit called, "The Silent System," in which Mr. Carter was the silent partner, who finally wins out. Mr. Alfred Stafford of Newtonville gave an interesting sleight-of-hand performance, and Mr. Robert Perry of West Newton sang "West Newton Belles." This was illustrated by the following young ladies: Miss Isabella Walsh, Miss Beth Crocker, Miss Eleanor Batholomew, Miss Hope Crocker, Miss Christine Peters, Miss Kate Wheeler, Miss Eleanor Gibbs, and Miss Margaret Woods.

Miss Winifred Smith Guest Speaker at Nursing Association

Public Health Nursing Week started Monday morning for the directors of the Newton District Nursing Association at their regular monthly meeting at the Clafin School in Newtonville.

The necessity for psychiatrics in the education of nurses, as interpreted by several board members who had attended the Psychiatric Institute in Boston earlier this month, was the leading topic discussed. Public Health nurses attending the institute also found it very helpful.

The use of a trained worker in Occupational Therapy as a permanent and full time member of the public health nursing staff was most clearly defined by Miss Winifred Smith who was the guest speaker from the Boston Visiting Nurse Association.

Miss Smith, a graduate of the Boston School of Occupational Therapy, told how, by guiding the activities either physical or mental, the recovery of a patient from disease or injury is hastened.

Some of the objectives of such a worker are to direct proper thinking of a patient, to stimulate new ideas and incentives in incurable or to bridge over the gap between injury and useful living.

The Newton District Nursing Association has ten registered nurses on its staff who, in addition to their routine nursing and public health duties, are ready to assist in complete recovery of patients by considering mental readjustments.

By several concise graphs it was called to the attention of the directors that in 1900 there were in the city of Newton, 130 deaths per 1,000 live births. In 1944 the crude infant mortality had dropped to 12.1 per 1,000 live births. The Newton District Nursing Association has played an important role in the community to keep this rate on a downward path through its extensive prenatal and child health program.

The "Well-Baby" Conferences conducted by the Organization help to keep well and happy the youngsters of Newton. The Association began immunizing its babies against diphtheria in 1933 and since that time 2666 babies have been so protected. In 1936 they started immunization against whooping cough and since then have immunized 1643 babies.

Kiwanis Club

Frank A. Anderson, Kiwanis Club Speaker, Declares The Ebb And Flow Of Mass Psychology Definitely Affects The Fortunes Of The Human Race—

The ebb and flow of mass psychology—positive and negative—is responsible for the ups and downs of mankind, according to Frank A. Anderson of the Anderson Laboratories, speaker at the noon meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, at the Y.M.C.A., Wednesday.

Sixteen years of research has proved, Mr. Anderson said, that the natural laws of the universe definitely influence the affairs of man. When positive, that influence is, so to speak, continued, a "green-go-ahead signal." A good time to make decisions, achieve and attain the fruits of success, . . . When negative, however, this universal influence acts on the majority much in the manner of a stumbling block. The average human is in a decidedly negative mood during this period, he added.

The Anderson Laboratories, founded by M. Anderson, have, the speaker said in conclusion, after correlating and identifying millions of psychological values, successfully harnessed and measured a natural law which makes it possible to anticipate the effect of mass psychology trends, and the manner in which the changes affect the success or failure of every individual's everyday life.

NURSE WEEK

Miss Hilga Nelson, Executive Secretary, Newton District Nursing Association, told the Club that the District Nurses had visited 1451 sick persons during the year, giving care and treatment 12,230 times. They gave health instruction to 1,144 families 5,353 times. Prenatal care to 253 mothers 876 times. In all, 21,828 visits were made during the year.

There are 20,000 Public Health Nurses in the country, Miss Nelson said. The service had its beginning in 1898, the Newton

Newtonville Woman's Club

For the April 16th meeting, the Newtonville Woman's Club is presenting a local celebrity, whose name is known from coast to coast, Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond, Literary Editor of the Boston Herald, and a member of the Club. Many people in the Newtons who know Mrs. Bond as a charming, modest person, may not be aware of the reputation she has throughout the rest of the country. She is first on the "White List" of the Publisher's Ad Club of Lecturers on Books in the entire United States; one of her lectures being chosen as representing the highest art of book reviewing from the platform, by J. V. Garland, Director of Public Speaking at Colgate University. Her many activities include the editing of the annual Christmas Book Catalogues for the Associated Booksellers of Boston; the Catalogue of the Boston Book Fair; Mrs. Bond also conducts Book Review Classes throughout New England, and makes extensive lecture tours over the nation. Last season she delivered 73 lectures.

Mrs. Bond will give her own clever interpretation of Books in the News.

The business part of the meeting will be conducted by Miss Estelle G. Marsh, and the introduction of Mrs. Bond, will be made by Mrs. Edwin P. McGill, chairman of Program.

District Nursing Service being the first in the U. S. The nurse first made her rounds on foot, later on a bicycle. There are now 18 district nurses in Newton.

Newton Club Activities

Newton Rotary Club

Professor Albert A. Schaefer, professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a member of the Cambridge Rotary Club, was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Friday at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Prof. Schaefer is a graduate of Harvard University and Harvard Law School, and at M. I. T. conducts courses in law and government. Speaking on "Youth and Tomorrow" he stated that from what he has been able to see, youth is in a rather troubled state, some cynical, some despondent, some seeking advice and not always listening to it. It is the duty of organizations and people who deal and talk with the youth of today to impress upon them the need for morals and a moral standard if we are to avoid catastrophe of future wars. There is a very definite fear that if self-interest prevails, these catastrophes might take place, and to avoid that there should be a sense of social responsibility in the nation, particularly the younger people, because they are going to be the world of tomorrow. He stated that the atomic bomb presents quite a problem, and the results will either be destructive or constructive, depending upon the social responsibility of the people of the world. Character cannot be legislated any more than the other can be legislated, outlawed. The UN may help, but even that cannot be successful unless supported by all the people everywhere. He said that morals are not a problem of law, and that educators and organizations, like the Rotary and fraternal organizations, could be an immense force for good. We should go forward with the UN and not forget that education is the first step in acquainting youth and peoples with their social responsibilities.

Lions Club

Speaking before the regular weekly meeting of the Newton Lions Club last Thursday evening, Lawrence Phelan, OPA Regional Price Economist, explained many of the intricacies of the government price regulations. His subject was "Price Control—Past, Present and Future."

In his remarks, the speaker dealt particularly with those regulations of the OPA which affected the different lines of business represented by the men in his audience. The members were greatly interested in the subject, as evidenced by the fact that most of the evening was taken up by a question period. Some phases covered were those in connection with the price control of consumer items in regard to the raising of the ceiling price to wholesalers and the effect that would have on the retailers.

In outlining the operation of the wage regulations, employers were advised by Mr. Phelan to get the approval of the OPA for all wage raises, thus maintaining a basis on which they could later, if necessary, apply for price increases.

The Newell Club

The Newell Club will hold its next meeting on Monday, April 15th, at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. Elmer C. Bartels, 63 Burdett road, Newton Centre.

Miss Morgan, a graduate of the Leland Powers School, has taught at the Chamberlain School for Girls in Boston. In addition she has coached and taught diction to many well-known radio, stage and screen stars. Her subject, "Radio Ramblings," will give the high lights of her varied radio activities.

Music School Anniversary-

L. Burrage. Others of this group were represented by members of their respective families, Mrs. John W. Carter by her son, Philip W. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Carter by their son, Hubert L. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Day by Frank A. Day, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Weeks by their son Sinclair Weeks.

Before dinner, a reception was held in the Colonial Room. At six-thirty the honor guests were escorted to the head table to the strains of Wagner's march from Die Meister-singers played by members of the Music School orchestra. The audience joined in singing the last stanza of the National Anthem and the invocation which followed this, was given by Dr. Ray A. Eusden. During the dinner, incidental music was furnished by the Boys' Trio, Barkev Kaligian and Robert Benson, violinists, William Bell, cellist, with Lorraine Smith at the piano.

After dinner, the program opened with a cordial greeting from the president, Mrs. George H. Fernald, who presented Miss Fyffe with a bouquet of spring flowers from the staff and faculty, and then introduced her to the assembled guests. Miss Fyffe responded graciously and spoke briefly of the development of the Music School, as follows:

"It is wonderful indeed to have so many here, or represented by near relatives, of those who are no longer with us, but whom we never forget. These dear friends helped to make my dreams of many years ago come to the happy reality we celebrate tonight; and it is gracious of the Music School to afford me the place of honor in this celebration. In the years during many of which I was actively working with you in what was always for me first of all a labor of love, the Music School has taken a very large part of my affections and interests, and has brought me many interesting, rewarding, and enriching contacts and experiences.

Today the great possibilities for good latent in the study and practice of music, integrated with the child's general education and with his spiritual, moral, and social development, are comparatively well understood; such work as ours is now given much of the credit it deserves. Thirty-five years ago it was different, and I realized that we would be faced with many difficulties, some misapprehensions and discouragements. We were; but that was a challenge to the strength of our belief in what we have always envisioned as our goal—not merely the training of musicians, however talented, but of human service through music. I still feel, however, the warm glow of gladness and surprise at the many "helping hands held out" to us; at the unexpected understanding and enthusiasm shown to our aims and by the confidence and generous backing of people whose judgment and broad view of life we respected and valued.

These things helped us and gave us courage, when courage was sometimes at a low ebb. I find that the hard work and the discouragements have merged into the background and have left certain high lights—beacons, illuminating the whole picture of the years. Of some of these things I shall speak to you, inadequately, but very gratefully.

In the Spring of 1911, the people whose instant and enthusiastic interest made it possible to start a music school, were most entirely my personal friends and professional colleagues. Some of these have grown into the permanent fabric of an organization which through the enduring qualities of its ideals, the practicality and value of its methods, and flexibility in meeting to carry the vision of its founders toward fruition.

With a group as a nucleus, there was developed a strong and competent Board of Trustees—public-spirited citizens of Newton, always ready to work for the needs of the School; ready with wise help and counsel.

Among the influences which built up a staff and faculty, efficient, and at the same time imbued with the larger purposes of our work, were, first, the growth of a corps of teachers from within our own organization, added to outstanding experienced teachers attracted by our ideals. With Miss Lillian West—able head of the Piano Department, then as now—I inaugurated Normal Courses, and we soon had the services of teachers who had been "brought up in the school" and were deeply devoted to its concept of human service. This development has resulted in a remarkable single-minded and self-sacrificing attitude in our Faculty, and no less, in our administrative staff. They spare no time, no effort to further whatever gifts our children may have, and in helping them in personal problems.

A second influence, another "corner-stone" of our musical accomplishment, was my strong belief in what I have called "Team-Work"; that is, group-playing and group-singing. It was this part of my individual philosophy of pedagogy which had attracted Mr. David Mannes and had led him to ask me to work in the large Music School Settlement, which in New York was a pioneer among those schools whose endeavor is to bring music within the reach of all, and which we now call Community Music Schools. The All Newton Music School is a charter member of the National Guild of Community Music Schools.

The shift of emphasis from "Settlement" to "Community" service, is one of the most significant and valuable changes of recent years. It came about slowly, as all our developments have done, and in response to a strong popular demand. In taking on the larger field of Community Service, it became possible to offer every pupil more of the activities and advantages which bring music into daily living; and every pupil shares in a practical demonstration of Democracy, value of which is constantly made more apparent.

Before deciding to accept the New York offer, I made the experiment to see if in my own town there might be a call for such work; with the results you all know. It is one of my present joys to go to the Saturday morning rehearsals of the combined orchestras and hear great music, lovingly rehearsed under conditions which I may only describe as being almost ideally democratic. This work results in a solidarity of feeling and purpose that is one of our major assets. Our orchestras are widely recognized as doing outstanding work; its members—highly trained from early study in Team-Work—are warmly welcomed to other orchestras, in adult, as well as in student days.

A bright-light came in February, 1913, when in old Players Hall was held an All-Newton Open House affair, afternoon and evening, which attracted much attention throughout Newton and started us off with a good deal of prestige in the eyes of the general public. Mr. and Mrs. David Mannes came and gave a concert, Mr. Mannes a lecture, and this was followed by a reception to these two outstanding artists whose pioneering in music school work had so greatly influenced our own effort.

In the Spring of 1912 when applications were coming in from every village and our generous hostesses of the West Newton Day Nursery found themselves overwhelmed, I approached the Chairman of the School Board and the Superintendent of Newton Schools, for consideration of the use of the buildings for our teaching. It was a most pleasant surprise and a real highlight, to be warmly welcomed by Major Seth Howard and Dr. Edward E. Spaulding—gentlemen of broad social outlook—and to have the School Board at once give the permission sought. From that day our school has had the hearty generous co-operation of the Newton Public Schools—a unique set-up of a private organization with a public one, which has gained much favorable comment throughout the country. In 1940 our warm friend, Dr. Julius E. Warren granted us the use of parts of the Clafin School every day in the week and for some night work. From this ensued a greater expansion of our work. For the first time we had offices, a place for our many informal recitals and many other activities which before had been impossible to undertake.

Our first Scholarship was established in 1913—the present Luke-Seaver Scholarship in memory of outstanding citizens of West Newton; and then, a high-light indeed, came recognition and substantial financial support from nationally known educators and musical foundations, outside of Newton. This is a matter of justifiable pride to us in the friends we have attracted by our work. Almost at once Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge, distinguished patroness of music, gave us a yearly grant of $250, which was maintained for many years. And from 1922 on for some years, Dr. Archibald T. Davison and Mr. Thomas Whitney Suret made a wonderful award to us ($2300 yearly) from a fund which they administered. That allowed us to pay better salaries and to expand beyond anything we had dreamed possible.

Then, in 1932 our Community Chest took us into its generous fold as a charter member. The successful relationships, the warm friendships, and the mutual respect which have existed between the Music School, the Public School, and the Community Chest, are among the most gratifying memories I hold.

The School has had a splendid history; a past that fills me with pride and gratitude for all the help which I have here so inadequately outlined. The future is ahead, and new developments are sure to come; that is inherent in healthy growth.

Now, in the years when I have turned over to others the responsibilities and heavy daily tasks which I know so well, I have satisfaction and joy beyond words of mine to express in watching the continuing growth and vitality of the school, the constantly increasing interest of the public, and the possibilities for further and greater service. All of which speaks of foundations well and truly laid by as devoted and loyal helpers as ever gave of their time and strength and talents. To me—and I hope and believe, to all you workers—the Labor of Love begun 35 years ago, has indeed brought great rewards.

Dr. J. Edgar Park, guest speaker of the evening, brought an inspiring message, seasoned with his usual sparkling humor. He paid tribute to Miss Fyffe and her untiring work in behalf of music opportunity for the youth of Newton, and went on to point out that music is the only international language—and as such could go far toward bringing together in common fellowship and purpose, the peoples of the whole world.

Other speakers included, Mr. Frederick S. Bacon of the Newton Y. M. C. A.; Dr. Homer W. Anderson of the Newton Public Schools; Hon. Sinclair Weeks; Miss Mabel T. Eager who spoke for the board of trustees, and Miss Nancy Turner, recipient of the Luke-Seaver Scholarship in violin study for 1945-1946, who spoke for the student body. Mr. Frank A. Day, Jr., presented the various speakers and did an excellent piece of work as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Fernald closed the meeting with a few remarks giving special commendation to Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, chairman of the Anniversary Dinner committee for the time, thought, and untiring effort on her part to make the celebration a memorable one for all.

The Program Committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, has arranged a novel innovation for the meeting. It has secured the services of a prominent ex-Newtonian, who will burlesque a famous radio program and incidentally test the community knowledge of the delegates present. Dr. Alter, the speaker of the evening, has been active in community affairs in a number of Eastern cities. In both his college and civic life he has made studies of some of the trends that affect good community living. As a resident of Newton he is especially interested and well-qualified to speak on good community planning.

A healthy Italian habit is the use of many greens. Salads are served whenever possible and are just as common as potatoes are to our meals. The dressing is usually made of red wine, vinegar or the juice of ripe lemons, olive oil, and some garlic.

The more elaborate meals invariably start with an antipasto (appetizer). Here is a recipe for this famous Italian dish:

Antipasto

Arrange: 1 head lettuce (shredded or sectioned), 4 tomatoes (sliced), 1/2 lb. salami (sliced), 1/2 lb. Italian cheese (sliced), 1 bunch of celery, 1 can of Anchovies, 4 pickled peppers, ripe olives, on individual salad plates or prepare in one large salad bowl.

Serve with: 1/2 cup olive oil, 1/4 cup vinegar.

Citizens of Newton interested in foods of other countries are invited to a meeting sponsored by the Newton Nutrition Center, featuring Italian cooking, at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on April 30, 1946, at 8 p.m. Here they will have an opportunity to see Italian dishes prepared and to taste all the foods. Admission is by tickets will be available in stores in all villages after April 15, 1946.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen

From

The Newton League of Women Voters

WASHINGTON HIGHLIGHTS

Cherry blossoms, magnolias, Jefferson and Lincoln Memorials, the Pentagon! All these and more I saw as we bowled along from Arlington, Virginia, enroute to Capitol Hill.

As my hostess was to "observe" for the District League at the hearing on Housing before the Senate Committee, we thought it would be interesting to separate and be able to share experiences later. Accordingly, I went to the new House Office Building and, in the House Banking and Currency Committee room, heard Sen. Vinson testifying concerning the need of continuing the Stabilization Act and OPA. During the questioning, I had to depart but determined to come back another day when Paul Porter and Chester Bowles, OPA Administrator and Price Stabilizer respectively, were scheduled to speak.

Next, however, I wished to call at our National League of Women Voters' headquarters. Arriving there, I was most cordially welcomed and shown through their rooms, from the "beehive" in the rear where the various publications are rushed out, ready for mailing, up to and including the President's office.

Miss Anna Lord Straus, the charming and efficient President of the National League, was typing a letter, but graciously offered to answer a few questions. To my first "What do you consider the most vital issue at the moment?" she promptly replied, "The question of control of atomic energy!" She went on to explain that while OPA, Housing, Loan to Britain were all of paramount importance, mistakes made regarding these could be rectified. We cannot, however, afford any mistake in setting up control of atomic bombs, and we should watch carefully the progress of the McMahon Commission, continuing to write letters to our legislators until we were sure that the control was safely in civilian hands.

She also mentioned the just-to-be-released State Dept. Report on Atomic Energy Control and advised that all League members familiarize themselves with the plan it proposed for international control.

Since then, the nearly 100,000 letters from an aroused citizenry to the McMahon Committee have had this result—Sen. Vandenberg has amended his previous amendment to the McMahon bill, and the military control is thus released. Newton League members who wrote letters to this effect can feel repaid for their effort.

The next day I again looked in upon the House Committee on Banking and Currency. This time Paul Porter was submitting his statement, following which a barrage of questions was hurled at him by opponents of OPA, some of whom were almost rude in their methods. Others, however, appreciated his sacrifice and devotion to a "thankless job," but were honestly seeking answers. This went on all morning, and although Mr. Bowles had been asked to come that day also, Chairman Spence at the request of some members asked Mr. Porter if he could continue. The laughing response was "I have no important engagements until 5 o'clock when I have to go to the dentist to have a tooth pulled!"

It was interesting to listen to the give and take between the opposing sides, and to realize that this is indeed democracy in action. A conclusion to be drawn from this, I believe, is that it is in Committee sessions such as these that the important groundwork for legislation is done; therefore our efforts both as League members and citizens should be directed toward action (letter-writing) during Committee hearings on bills.

SPRING LAWN CARE

This is the fourth and last of the spring series of short articles on the care of your lawn.

The previous articles have brought us up to the point of getting the lawn into condition for the season and care during the earlier months.

More lawns are damaged by improper water than the average person will realize.

Water is essential to plant growth. Too much is just as harmful as not enough, in that either extreme will cause loss of plant life.

There have been times in the early spring, such as in 1944, when we had high drying winds in March and it was necessary for the golf greenkeepers to actually water their greens in March to keep them from drying out. This is called desiccation or excess drying by the elements. Seldom does this condition damage the average lawn so we will eliminate watering before growth is well under way.

New seedlings require water and in their case soil dampness should be present and light syringing by a hose with a fine nozzle will keep them alive until their roots will reach down to the moisture supply. Here we are concerned with the established lawns.

By the rule of the thumb we consider once inch of water applied to ordinary soil will give five inches of soil moisture. Therefore when a lawn is watered it is best to give it enough water to average one inch on the surface and not repeat this until a test with some plunger shows the top is drying out. Therefore on the average ONCE PER WEEK will suffice. Keep the spray fine or use some mechanical device that will give uniform distribution.

This artificial rainfall is seldom needed until the spring rains have stopped and then until the fall rains begin. Do not try to force your grass growth during the hot summer months as it is naturally dormant then. It is the weeds and crab grass that want to grow extensively during these months. Just keep your grass alive with infrequent ample water applications and cut the grass higher and less frequently.

Her hand reaches out to help you...

She's your public health nurse. Sometimes she's called the "visiting nurse." Perhaps you've seen her hurrying down the street on her way to the room of a crippled child or the bed of a tired, pain-racked mother. Doctors are glad to have her standing beside them. She knows most of the streets in your town, for pain and sickness may strike anywhere. Children watch for her, knowing that she brings security, comfort, hope. Things just seem brighter because she's there.

In an average day, the public health nurse may... show parents how to take care of a new born baby.

... help make comfortable for the day an elderly man crippled with arthritis.

... teach mother how to prevent germs spreading from sickroom dishes.

... plan with family for return of disabled veteran.

... demonstrate to bedridden woman how to use home-made overhead bar to help move more easily in bed.

... demonstrate insulin injection.

... guide mother in planning nutritious meals.

... check condition of boy who returned to nursery school after illness.

April 7 to 13 is Know Your Public Health Nurse Week.

This is a good time to find out just how much the public health nurse does in your community, what she can do should you or someone in your family need part-time nursing care in your home. The nurse shortage still is acute, particularly in hospitals, so it's heartening to know you can turn to the public health nurse for skillful care. She is a registered graduate nurse, expected to have special post-graduate training.

About 20,000 public health nurses are on call in the United States. In one day each nurse can make seven or eight visits and often reaches as many as 50 people through classes and clinics. A small fee is charged those able to pay; otherwise her services are free. For more information, please call your local health department, visiting nurse association or write to the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, Inc., 1790 Broadway, New York 19, N.Y.

RECENT DEATHS

Ida May Wallace

December 71, 1869-April 8, 1946

With the passing of Ida May Wallace on Monday, Newton High School can inscribe on its honor roll of teachers the name of one who was deeply beloved by the many students with whom she was associated for more than thirty years. Miss Wallace came to Newton in 1899, and served continuously in the Latin Department of the High School until her retirement in 1932.

Born in Meriden, Connecticut, she spent her early years in Wakefield, Massachusetts, where she graduated from the Wakefield High School in 1886. That year, two of the graduating class had won high scholastic honors with but a fraction of a point between them, so there were two Valedictorians. Ida May Wallace was one of the two.

At Wellesley Miss Wallace majored in Latin and Greek, and following her graduation with the Class of 1890 (of which she was elected permanent Treasurer) she taught those subjects for three years at a private school for girls in Riverside. On transferring to the Newburyport High School in 1894, she first made the acquaintance of Enoch C. Adams, then Principal of that school, who became a lifelong friend and associate in her teaching. When Mr. Adams moved to New Britain, Connecticut, in 1897, and then became Principal of Newton High School two years later, he was followed by his best teachers, of whom he always considered Miss Wallace to be one of the most indispensable.

Those who were privileged to study Latin with Miss Wallace will remember old Room 12, both for the work they did there and for the fun they had in doing it. As a grammarian she stressed the importance of mastering those first essentials without which the future of any student of Latin can be a nightmare. Progressing to Caesar, she led her group indefatigably up and down Gaul from the War with the Helvetii to the final surrender of Vercingetorix, following expeditions into Britain and building bridges over the Rhine with a complete understanding of Caesar's military and engineering principles. With Cicero she stood staunchly behind her young scholars while helping them to hurl invective against Catiline. But with all the earnestness of her instruction, her pupils were never allowed to lose sight of the fact that Latin is far from being a dead language, and that it can make thoughts and actions of long ago become very much alive indeed.

In the thoroughness and inspiration of her teaching she contributed immeasurably to the stature of the Latin Department. S. Warren Davis, coming to the school twenty years earlier, with the assistance of Harriet P. Poor and Emily Hazen had established instruction in the classical studies on a high plane. The coming of both Miss Wallace and May Belle Goodwin in 1899 added a tower of strength to the department, which became recognized as outstanding among the secondary schools.

Much of the source of Miss Wallace's inspiration was derived from her periodic studies abroad.

Miss Wallace was a member of the Newton Emblem Club and of the Franklin School Parent-Teachers' Association.

Besides her husband she is survived by her father, two sons, Alfred R. Jr. and Paul H., four sisters, Mrs. Camella Medaglia of West Newton, Mrs. Josephine Carroll of Waltham, Miss Frances Gorgone of West Newton, and Mrs. Angeline White of Waltham, and one brother, Salvatore Gorgone, U. S. Navy stationed in Philadelphia.

WILL CURRIER EDDY
WILL CURRIER EDDY, since 1911 a resident of Auburndale, died on April 10th at the home of his daughter on Salem End road in Framingham Centre. He was in his 89th year, and had been ill for several months.

Born in Jamestown, N. Y., Oct. 14, 1857, he was the son of the late Myron Winslow and Louisa Maria (Sherman) Eddy, and a brother of the late Fred Sherman Eddy of Jamestown, N. Y., and Charles Sumner Eddy of Akron, Ohio.

His business has been printing and publishing, formerly connected with T. O. Metcalf Co. of Boston, and in recent years conducting his own business in Auburndale.

For many years he was a resident of Medford, where he took an active part in city affairs and was Chairman for Publicity and Publication at the 275th Anniversary of the town. He had been President of the Mystic Camera Club, of the New England Photographic Exchange, the Bay State Historical League and the Medford Historical Society.

Funeral services will be held at the Newton Cemetery Chapel on Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Ralph H. Rogers of the Auburndale Congregational Church, of which Mr. Eddy was a member and Rev. D. Brewer Eddy. Burial will be in the Eddy family lot in Jamestown, N. Y., at the convenience of the family.

On seven different occasions she visited the Old World, pursuing classical studies in Rome with Miss Goodwin at the American Academy and more widely throughout Latium, resting in Switzerland or enjoying the homely atmosphere of the British Isles, or avidly absorbing the historic background of the eastern Mediterranean.

Miss Wallace, truly a teacher of the humanities, was no less interested in High School students as human beings. Boys seemed particularly to find help in her sympathetic guidance and companionship. For years she led a group of High School age on Sunday mornings at the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville, where she was a member for about thirty years. Yet her appeal to girls was no less, for in her early years she was one of the senior advisers of the High School girls' club (the Queens of Avilion) at the Central Church, and after her retirement was active in leading a group of young women at the First Congregational Church in Wakefield.

Deeply spiritual, with an abiding faith, Ida May Wallace lived a life which was largely devoted to others. Of few of her fellow alumnae could it be said with greater truth that she lived the motto of her college: "Non ministrari sed ministrare." April 10, 1946.

Rev. Murphy of B.C. Speaks at Holy Name Society Meeting

Rev. John F. X. Murphy, S. J., professor of history at Boston College was the speaker at the meeting of the Holy Name Society of Our Lady's Church, Newton on Sunday evening. He was introduced by Rev. Francis X. Bransfield, who was presented to the society by the pastor, Rev. Michael E. Doherty, as their new spiritual director.

Fr. Murphy, who has been a member of the Society of Jesus for 53 years and has taught history for 35 years, spoke on "Franco—Facts and Figures." Stating that a knowledge of the history of Spain is essential to the understanding of present events, he traced the government of the country for the past several centuries. He said there are fewer priests and nuns in Spain than in the United States, because of persecution by Communist and Socialist governments.

The revolt which put Franco in power was staged by the "cream of the country" including young men who were conscripted into the Army and desired to go back to their studies. Indications are that Franco plans a real election, but feels that the time is not ripe for the action. Fr. Murphy said. The dictator is instituting a sound scientific social system in Spain, according to Fr. Murphy, who gave as an illustration the loan of 7,000 pesetas to newlyweds. The loan is cancelled at the rate of 25 per cent for each child born. Fr. Murphy said.

Adverse criticism of Franco is largely from 1,300 former office holders who have been removed from the subsidy list by the dictator, Fr. Murphy stated. He concluded his talk by predicting great things for Spain under the present government.

Act - Or Perish

Government and authorities talk of the "next war." Only scientists seem capable of recognizing the import of the atomic age. Only they seem to realize that mankind cannot survive an atomic conflict. "Planning" for the next war means planning for extinction.

The book "One World or None" describes what would happen if some morning an atomic bomb should fall on New York. Half a mile in the air above the target the bomb bursts. About 300,000 of the persons living or working in an area of less than 200 blocks on Manhattan Island suddenly cease to exist. Another 300,000 are seriously injured. And thousands, who apparently escape, are to die of the effects of radiation. The destruction of property is incalculable and it is not confined to this area. Many blocks away other buildings collapse or are damaged, killing and maiming hundreds in the ruins.

The above book was not written by a headline hunter. It was written by level-headed men of science who do not frighten easily. As Raymond Moley, writing in Newsweek expresses it, "These men are in the top reaches of science. They are putting their hard-earned distinction literally on the line. . . . They are telling the statesmen of all nations, the peoples of all countries—they are telling you—to understand, to consider, to remember and to act—or perish."

Tomorrow May Be Too Late

Those who own their own homes in this period of inflated values and housing shortage, are very fortunate. But a large percentage of them have become overly complacent. They own their homes, yes. Yet they neglect to adequately protect themselves in case of fire. The fire insurance industry is making a concerted effort to impress upon all home owners that fire insurance policies should be checked periodically to see if they reflect current values. In the last few years property values have risen 30 to 60 per cent or more. A home that was fully insured ten years ago is probably not much more than half insured today. If it is destroyed by fire, the owner would awaken to the sickening realization that replacement on the strength of his outdated insurance would be impossible.

So don't procrastinate. Appraise your insurance policies immediately. Don't jeopardize the most important element of security for yourself and your family—your home.

People buy insurance for protection. Fire insurance companies would be subject to criticism if they did not warn the public when inflation undermines that protection.

The old firm of Murray & Farrell, so well known in Newton, has been dissolved, and Mr. Murray has sold out his horse-shoeing department and will devote himself entirely to carriage making and repairing. This branch of the business has grown to such an extent under Mr. Murray that it takes all the room available at the old stand, and demands all the time of Mr. Murray to look after it. A glance at the great number of carriages standing in the vicinity shows how extensive the business is and Mr. Murray has gained the patronage of all of this section of Newton, besides a good deal from the other wards. The making of new carriages to order is one branch of the business that has grown to a large extent, and Mr. Murray's carriages have a high reputation for excellent workmanship and good wearing qualities.

Gentlemen interested in Y. M. C. A. work in Newton met last evening and voted to lease rooms 6, 7 and 8 in Bacon's block, and fit them up for the association. Alterations will be made at once, the rooms will be connected by folding doors, so that when needed they can be thrown into one, and they will be used separately for a reception room, reading room and parlor. The formal acceptance of Mr. Barrett, of Yonkers, N. Y., was received, for the position of secretary, and it was decided to hold a reception for him early in May, to introduce him to Newton people. The rooms will be dedicated as soon as they are ready for occupancy.

The Rev. George Lawrence Parker, formerly minister of the American Church in Petrograd, began his pastorate in the Newton Centre Unitarian Church, Sunday. He was welcomed by a congregation that filled the church.

When the people of this country learn that the unit of measure should be that of production and not hours, or wages, or working conditions, then, and not till then, will we have a solid basis on which capital, management, and labor can stand together.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen

From

The Newton League of Women Voters

"WE POINT WITH PRIDE"

Beginning early in 1942 with the slogan, "Let the people know, make the people care, help the people act" the League of Women Voters engaged in the following:

In Hamilton County, Tennessee, a broadside and a booklet on Dumbarton Oaks were left in every doctor's and dentist's waiting room and wrapped in every package in two department stores and two bookstores.

In Louisville, Kentucky, $5,000 broadsides were distributed—one for every five citizens in the city—on the same topic.

In St. Louis the League canvassed every voter in one ward, explaining issues, answering questions, and urging him to vote.

In Lawrence, Kansas, the League polled the whole town on Dumbarton Oaks.

The Milwaukee League made a study of local housing conditions, interested other organizations and helped to organize a joint action committee which finally pushed through an ordinance to set up a housing authority—in a town which had been indifferent to its housing problems.

The Middletown, Conn., League secured a secret ballot in the election of the school board.

The Superior, Wisconsin, League engineered a shift to a council-manager form of government.

The Cincinnati League saw to it that ninth grade students learned about their municipal government at first hand.

Georgia's abolition of the poll tax was publicly credited to the League's six-year program of educational work.

The Missouri League was so active in securing a constitutional convention and in getting the new and greatly improved charter adopted, that the charter was said to be a "triumph for the League of Women Voters."

and is kept well stocked by Aid members and interested friends. Eight Newton villages and Wellesley share in staffing the Shop. Mrs. Clark, and her assistant hostesses, who are the May committee for this task, hope to fill the shop's shelves through means of their bundle brunch.

Invitations, sent to all the Newtonville members of the Aid association, asked that each guest "please bring or send" a bundle of clothing, glass, china, or a treasure article for the Benefit Shop. The Shop, oldest project of the Aid, has been a going concern for many years

She also described the activities of the nursing association and public health activities, one of which was the tuberculosis and clinic activities. Miss Nelson also mentioned the fine results that the nursing association has brought about by the reduction of infant mortality and the prevention of diphtheria, and other work in the prevention of epidemics.

Mr. Landen, who was introduced by Dwight Colburn gave a very excellent talk regarding insurance clauses and forms which need explanation to the average public and business man because they are not fully informed. Policyholders, as a general rule, do not appreciate broadening coverages in their insurance policy issued in the past few years. He complimented the City of Newton, stating that it was a pleasure to be in a community which had such a high rating in the fire insurance business. Newton, he told us, occupies a top rating because of its fire prevention and fire protection work.

The authors discussed by Mrs. Bond, were Mrs. Phyllis Bottome, Conrad Richter, Helen Hull, Jo Sinclair, Gladys Schmitt, Carson McCullers, Garland Roark. A delightful part of the lecture was Mrs. Bond's reading of some of the poems of "What Cheer," by David McCoy.

Miss Estelle G. Marsh, president of the club, announced that Miss Norma Simmons, of the Newton High School, had received the annual scholarship award, of $200. Miss Simmons plans to attend the Russell Sage College, in New York.

Rev. Arthur Block, minister of the Lutheran Church and a member of the Newton Lions Club, introduced the speaker at last week's meeting of the club. The speaker, Charles Sieck, had as his subject "Child Welfare" and told of the many problems confronting the Community today and of the large increase in cases brought about because of unsettled and unhealthy conditions which were leave in their wake. He cited many pitiful examples that have come to his personal attention as a Social Worker, and in describing his work, told of the need of the trained social worker seeking adequate information in order to properly help the child and family and not "just as a snoop expedition" as so many persons think.

Mr. Sieck is a graduate of theological school and is connected with the Lutheran Church and also with the New England Home for Little Wanderers, and therefore in a position to be most helpful to the cast coming to his attention. In cases of adoption, or when placing youngsters in foster homes, care is always used to select families of the faith of the child, and homes where the children will be treated as one of the family rather than as a means of attaining additional income. In speaking of foster homes and institutions he related of the part that Massachusetts has played throughout the years, and he also spoke of the trend away from institutions to such a point where today the shift was back in that direction, where there is a great need.

In the absence of King Lion Blakesley, First Vice-President "Doc" Charles Hall presided at the well attended meeting.

W. Newton Women's Educational Club

The sixty-sixth annual meeting of the Club was held on April 12 in the Second Church Parish House. At tables gay with forsythia, tulips and jonquils, a delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Henry Keating, chairman. Seated at the head table were the special guests, Mrs. A. Chesley York, second vice president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Arthur Cornell, 12th district director, the past presidents and the officers of the club.

Mrs. Frank Ogilvie, president, introduced Mrs. York and Mrs. Cornell who spoke briefly of the work done by the Federation and the 12th district and plans for the future. After the reports of the work accomplished by the Club during the year, the following ballot was elected: president, Mrs. Frank Ogilvie; first vice president, Mrs. Charles Gibson; second vice president, Mrs. William Atkinson; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank A. Hannon; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Theodore Danker; treasurer, Mrs. Wilson Dori; auditor, Mrs. Percival Waters; director for two years, Mrs. Harry Shank; directors for three years, Mrs. Donald Moody, Mrs. Harry Underwood, Mrs. Edwin Wolley; nominating committee, chairman, Mrs. Vernon Blagbrough.

Mrs. Gibson, program chairman, presented Miss Maude Preston who spoke on "The Psychology of Fashion." Miss Preston, born in England and educated in English and American Universities, gave an interesting and clever talk on how to make the best of ourselves. Modeling her own costumes, she gave many practical suggestions about simple ways to make one foundation dress express our personalities and serve for all occasions.

The meeting was concluded with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The Hobby Class annual meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Warner, 11 Pleasant street, on April 26. There will be a May basket luncheon and a program of pantomime and music by members. for the purpose of giving aid to the handicapped and crippled throughout Massachusetts and is affiliated with similar sales conducted by societies in 41 other states through the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Increased efforts were evident in all of the regional headquarters this week as well as at the State Headquarters in Worcester. Scores of volunteer workers, men and women prominent in civic, social and industrial life, are aiding in the sale of these attractive Easter Seals.

George M. Rideout of Wellesley Hills, Chairman of the 1946 Seal Sale, in urging renewed effort stated, "It is highly appropriate that Easter was chosen as the period in which to give financial aid to handicapped and crippled adults and children. The Easter Seal is not just a sticker,

Mr. Rideout went on to point out that, "Contributions to this cause through the purchase of Easter Seals assures the Bay State Society of the opportunity to do this splendid and much needed work, and again it is emphasized that never in any instance will the Bay State Society trespass upon the work or campaigns of any other organization, whether public or private. There will never be any duplication of the work of local organizations and aid will be available to every handicapped person regardless of age, sex, or creed."

On The Inside

By Marvin R. Gould

The Newton High School varsity baseball team has been having spring training for the past month. As of the writing of this column, "Jeff" Jones varsity baseball coach has not officially announced his starting line-up. However, in the opinion of this reporter, the following men will make up the Newton first team this coming season. Catcher, Art Weinstein, batting practice catcher of the Boston Braves; first base, Eddie Collins; second base, George Patterson, a returning letterman; short stop, Bobby "S" Scanlon, of football, basketball, tennis, and High School political fame; third base, George Wales, who also played football and hockey earlier this year; outfield, Hank Fitzpatrick (son N.G. tells us), Lufti Gazagian, and Tinker Connelly. You will note that I have left the pitching staff empty, well that's just the way it is. While we are on the subject of pitching, Nick Zuanotto, ace pitcher of last year has signed with the Chicago Cubs and will be farmed out to Quebec.

Arthur Lucier was recently home on liberty from his ship, the U.S.S. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Lenny Gilman certainly looks sharp cruising the city in his 1946 "bomber". Many students have said to me, "You're supposed to be, On The Inside, Marv, well what's with this DECATUR 9700." Rather than print the story of this number I advised them to read last week's issue of this paper, page 4. If you can't find a copy of last week's issue of this paper, call this number and see what happens.

Here is some news direct from the Spotlight Staff of Weeks. Mrs. Allingham the Weeks Junior High dramatic teacher is planning to put on a play using costumes from all parts of the globe. She also hopes to have music representing the various countries. This is the first year that Mr. Parker, the Weeks Band Leader, and Mr. Blaisdell, Principal, have agreed to let the Weeks band march in the Memorial Day Parade, May 30. Mr. Moral, a former teacher, who was a favorite of all has left the school to become Principal of Weymouth High School.

April 27 has been officially declared the date for the N.H.S. Senior Prom. Many High School students took the College Entrance Examination Board Exams last Saturday, April 6. We may soon have female cheerleaders at N.H.S. pending the approval of the Executive Council.

More than 50,000 hats were entered in the contest sponsored by Tom Breneman's "Breakfast In Hollywood" and "Hedda Hopper's Hollywood," both WCOP programs.

Price Panel Asks Merchant Cooperation

The Office of Price Administration is now, more than ever, fighting to curb inflation with all its attendant disastrous results. Every effort is being made to continue the constructive work which has thus far kept prices from skyrocketing. Such action is imperative for a sound economy.

Yet since V-J Day there has been noted an amazing slackening on the part of merchants and distributors in following the OPA regulations concerning prices. For example, in a recent check on food prices in a nearby community, eight of the stores were found to be overcharging on one to five of the articles on the survey check list. Your local Price Control Board, which serves only from a spirit of community interest, has always attempted to work with the utmost fairness with the merchants of this area. They are interested only in seeing that the prices charged conform to the regulations issued by the Regional and National OPA offices. They do not make these regulations, but it is our duty to see that they are carried out.

Warren Junior High School Notes

Warren Junior High School boys and girls contributed 710 cans of food and $38.55 for the purchase of more canned food for the Victory Collection of Canned Foods sponsored by the Girl Scouts of Newton. This was Warren's answer to an appeal made over the school's broadcasting system by Mrs. Ralph Orrill, representing the UNRRA. Mrs. Orrill, an American citizen whose father was attached to the diplomatic service of this country in England, served for six years as a Wren in the English navy. She was stationed in London during the war she lost her father, her mother, her brother and her husband. Five months ago she returned to the United States where she will again make her home. Mrs. Orrill was able, from first-hand information, to stress the needs of the starving people of Europe. She pointed out that starving people will follow any one who will feed them and, to preserve the peace of the world, they must be fed by the right people. Mrs. Orrill was introduced to the student body by Mrs. Francis Moss, sponsor of the Girl Scouts' Victory Collection.

The Victory Collection of Canned Foods offered another opportunity for keen competition between Home Rooms 202 and 203. Many times during the year these two rooms have struggled against each other for first place, with Room 203 winning although usually only by a small margin. This time, however, Room 202 was much the victor, winning by a margin of nineteen cans. These two rooms together were responsible for providing 158 cans of food.

Margaret Allison, of Home Room 204, has been appointed one of the two representatives of the Junior Red Cross of Newton to be sent to the annual convention in Philadelphia in June. She will leave June 17th and will return in time to give a report of her trip at the final school assembly on June 21st.

Warren is very proud that its record of Junior Red Cross work merited the school the coveted honor of sending a delegate to this convention, and that Margaret was chosen as this delegate in recognition of her fine Junior Red Cross work.

The Pacific coast region, including the states of the Northwest, has the heaviest forests in the United States.

The mineral resources of the United States comprise the cornerstone of American manufacturing.

Newton High School News

Newton High School's Art Department cooperates with City Nutrition Group.
The Commercial Art classes under the direction of Miss Ellis have designed colorful three-dimensional posters advertising the display of Italian food, first in the series of "What's Cooking in Your Neighbors' Pot" Displays. These posters can be seen on the Woman's Club display boards throughout the city. One of the members of these classes, Priscilla Travis, has designed the symbol for the permanent use of the nutritional group. Students in the Art Appreciation classes under Miss Miles are designing a window display for the Walnut Delicatessen and are collaborating with the Girl Scouts in arranging the tables to be seen at the Y.M.C.A. on the evening of April 30. One of Mrs. Cornell's pupils from her Commercial and Fashion class, Rosalie Flaydeman, made the program cover design to be used on that occasion.

School let out at 12 o'clock on Monday, April 8, for a selected group of Newton High School pupils under the leadership of Mr. J. Collins Lingo. The lively group, consisting of members of the orchestra and glee club, a soloist, and accompanist, was transported to the Bedford Hospital for Disabled Veterans by bus. There, they presented a program of music, well received by a large and responsive audience of ex-soldiers.

The ensemble played first selections from "Tannhauser," "Gold and Silver Waltz," "Song of India," excerpts from "Blossomtime," "Valse Triste," selections from Martha, and a tango, "El Cholo."

The Harmonizing Jesters, Richard Miller, Dan Levant, Dick McGraw, and Elliot Keyes, were then introduced and, with Joan Fiermonte accompanying, sang "Old Man River" and "Nut Brown Maiden."

Virginia Cousins, soprano, presented "The Indian Love Call," "My Hero," and as an encore, "The Man I Love."

A touching gift climaxed the men's evident enjoyment of the music. One veteran had spent hours searching for four war clovers and had found enough so that each pupil received one for good luck.

After refreshments had been served, the group boarded the bus for the high school. The hilarity on the return journey exceeded, if possible, that of the first trip, with two violins and a clarinet playing in back, two french horns in front, and many loud voices all around. The pupils reached high school again by three thirty.

Orchestra members were (First Violins) Barkov Kalegan, Herbert Bailey, Nancy Turner, Janet Stokes; (Second Violins) Ernest Goldberg, John Moore; (Viola) Janice Nickel; (Cello) Helene Boyd; (Bass) Charles Billings; (Flute) Jean Avantaggio; (Clarinets) Louis Visco; (Horns) Judith Mitchell, Charlotte Gerard; (Trumpet) Norman Patterson; (Piano) Lorraine Smith.

F. A. Day Junior High School

"Una, the unique figure in our main corridor and symbolic of the desperate need of the war-stricken people of Europe, has created a superlative interest among the student body and faculty. Because of a sympathetic understanding, and also a willingness to help, much clothing and food have been brought in this week. Home rooms have already contributed enough postage for sixteen packages and boxes are being sent to Greece, Jugoslavia, Holland, Poland, England, and Italy. Room 10 has already contributed postage for one box and its members have in addition, agreed to forfeit their desserts for one day and thus send in an additional contribution. Miss Tobin's home room has been busily washing, ironing, and mending clothing, and polishing shoes. Girls from the Eighth Grade have volunteered their services in aiding Miss Paul and Miss Tobin with the sorting and packing. Through the daily bulletin and the creative drawings and poem on the main bulletin board UNA (United Nations Aid) speaks to us—"and the greatest of these is charity."

The April issue of the Day-tonian, the school newspaper, was released this week. Much credit goes to Mr. Cowles, the faculty adviser and his chief editorial staff; Sylvia Bernard, Nancy Shea, Joan Chase, Douglas Duff, and Jean Atkinson.

At the assembly on Friday morning, the timely movie, "World Series of 1945" was shown. The student chairman was Frank Capodanno of Grade Nine.

After vacation the noon hour lunch league in boys' softball will get under way. The four captains are: Phillip Umbrello, Richard Schultz, Joseph Landry, Joseph Seichilone.

Rummage Sale

A rummage sale will be held on Friday, April 26, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. at 1301 Washington street, West Newton. The Center Building Association invites everyone to come as there will be clothing for all ages, hard-to-get household equipment, books and art goods for sale. The committee of the Centre Building Association is headed by Mrs. Adrian O'Keefe. The other directors of the West Newton Community Center assisting Mrs. O'Keefe are: Mrs. Henry B. Shepherd, Mrs. Frederick C. Wells, Mrs. Carroll B. Larson and Mrs. Oliver S. Leland. The West Newton Community Center is a Red Feather activity.

Lawn Care

Weeds in the Lawns
Those growers of fine turf, such as Golf Greenkeepers look on clover as a weed. Many folks like clover in their lawns so when we talk about weeds we will include clover and warn what not to do if clover is desired.

First we should say that clover is not one of the grasses for lawns but is one of the several perennials which are desired because they spread and cover the ground. Now and then we have a season not favorable to clover and it is killed out. Unless reseeded with grass or clover a heavy crop of weeds will take over. This makes it an undesirable plant for reasons of varying seasonal mortality.

The day of digging weeds out of the lawns is gone. Today we have either arsenicals or hormones to do this for us.

Much has been written about the now famous 2,4-D. This is a selective hormone which over stimulates the weeds and causes them to just overgrow themselves until death. It will kill such as Bindweed, Saw Thistle, Pigweed, Ragweed, Wild Carrot, Lambs-quarter, Round-leaved mallow, Buckhorn plantain, Chickweed, Dandelion and certain other weeds. One application should suffice for the plants existing and additional applications on the new plants arising from seeds in the soil. It does retard bents but does not harm the common lawn grasses if used at recommended rates. It has no effect on crab grass and retards but seldom kills clover.

There are many preparations on the market under various trade names using 2,4-D as a base (Dichlorophenoxyacetic Acid) with percentages of the actual 2,4-D running from 8 percent to 70 percent. One must follow directions carefully on account of varying strengths of prepared materials.

We recommend the first application just as the dandelions are ready to blossom and the second, if necessary, when the next crop is ready to blossom.

For crab grass we recommend an arsenical. Either Arsenic Acid, Sodium arsenite as liquid applications or Milaminate (sodium arsenite and Milanganite mixed) as a dry application. One treatment will kill all growing crab grass and stunt all weeds, killing all annuals, but only slightly browning the common grasses all of which will revive in a few days. One application will stunt but not kill clover.

These preparations must be used according to the directions for full results and minimum damage. All reliable manufacturers give full directions on each package. Read and follow them.

The Missouri river, 2,945 miles long, is the longest river in the United States.

Eliot Arts Guild's "Spring Fling"

Finally we have something fairly definite to announce concerning the dramatic element of the Art's Guild, "Spring Fling." We have a cast!

Wednesday evening, April 10, tryouts were held in Eliot Church club room. The contestants read the various parts in which they were interested, and the results were not only good, but hilarious.

The play, "They Ain't Done Right by Nell," is an old fashioned melodrama with a backwoods setting. All that we can say about the characters is that they range in type from a simple and kindly old grandmother to a suave, young schemer from the city. More than that would give away surprises which can only come on the evenings of May 9th and 10th at 8:15 in Eliot Church Chapel.

The choosing of the cast was done primarily by vote of the members assembled at the April 10th meeting, and final votes were taken by the steering committee on Sunday evening.

Miss Stratton who will direct the play has only this to say: "There were so many good contestants that we would have to give the play three times with different casts to use them all."

Actors were also chosen for Kenneth Barton's continuity prologue. Kenneth Barton, who dreamed up those priceless fantasies for "It's Colossal," has stretched his imagination beyond all bounds for "Spring Fling" and emerges with another set of madcap characters. And we might add at this point that the author will not only busy himself with the scenery, but will also direct his very gay and unpredictable continuity prologue.

The cast of "They Ain't Done Right by Nell" follows:

Nell Betty Lane
Laura Wilkins Mrs. H. George
Mr. Carlton Mr. H. Fraser
Hilton Hayes Dick Grimm
Jack Logan Marvin Perry
Granny Isabel Conway
Vera Carlton Bessie R. Bacon

Jesus the Way-shower; and we through Christ, through Truth,

Life, and Love as demonstrated by the Galilean Prophet in healing the sick and overcoming sin

First United Presbyterian Church Service Planned For Easter Sunday

Coincidental with the celebration of its one hundredth anniversary the First United Presbyterian Church of Boston will conduct its first service in its new church home in Newton on Easter Sunday morning. The last Sunday services in the edifice the congregation has occupied for the past quarter century were held on Palm Sunday.

Founded in 1846 in the face of strong opposition by the native churches the Presbyterian Church came into being in Boston as a result of the yearning of a homesick Scot of that distant day to hear a "Scotch Preaching." In its early days the church was made up chiefly of Scotch and Irish residents of Greater Boston. Numbered among the founding fathers was the famous Donald Mackay, the Nova Scotian ship builder whose famous clipper ships carried the American flag to the forefront of world trade.

In later years the Scotch-Irish domination was superseded by a wave of immigration from Cape Breton. Even until comparatively recent years the church remained the church home of young Canadians migrating from Nova Scotia and it is doubtful if any other Boston church is as well known throughout Canada as the First United Presbyterian Church.

The church made history in the 1880's when it sent a petition to the President of the United States in which war was condemned as a crime and the establishment of an international court of arbitration was suggested. Inasmuch as this was one of the first recorded appeals of this nature it would have been most appropriate had the UN decided to make their permanent home in the Boston area.

The Easter Services which will be conducted by the pastor, the Reverend George L. Murray, will inaugurate a centennial program extending over a ten day period. Dedication services will be held on the evening of Tuesday, April 23 and will be conducted by Dr. Thomas C. Pollock, President of the western division of the Alliance of Presbyterian and Re-

Community Church Of Boston

"Christianity and Judaism—Where They Meet and Where They Part" will be the subject of the address to be given by Rabbi Barnett R. Bricker on Easter Sunday morning, April 21, at 10:30 at the service of the Community Church of Boston in Jordan Hall. Rabbi Bricker has been the leader of the Euclid Ave. Temple, Cleveland, Ohio, since 1925. Prior to that time he served as Rabbi in the Reformed Synagogue in Toronto. He also served as the president of the Jewish Philanthropies for five years in that city. During the years 1937-43 he was chairman of the Social Justice Commission of the Central Conference of American Rabbis; member of the executive board of the Zionist Organization of America and a member of the executive board of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. During World War II he was administrative chairman of the Army and Navy Activities Committee of the National Jewish Welfare Board. In 1944, designated by President Roosevelt and the War Dept. and the National Jewish Welfare Board, he toured the various theaters of war on a religious mission representing the Jewish faith. He was received by the President and conveyed to the fighting forces his personal message. He traveled fifty thousand miles by air and covered far-flung battle zones in Africa, South America, India, Egypt, Persia, China, Italy, Sicily and Western Europe. Rabbi Bricker is the author of "The God Idea and Modern Thought," and the "History of Jews in Canada."

The Community Church is non-sectarian and the public is invited.

Newton Veterans Organize American Veterans Comm. Chapt.

A.V.C. Committee Is Well Represented By Large Group of Newton Citizens

A group of Newton Veterans founded a chapter of the American Veterans Committee in this city at a meeting held last Thursday evening. At this meeting, the third held during the past month by these men who have been members of A.V.C. for varying lengths of time, it was decided to organize in Newton and hold a general meeting next week which all Newton veterans are invited to attend and learn about the aims and accomplishments of this newest nationally recognized veterans group. The present members, some of whom joined overseas chapters of A.V.C., before returning to the states, have been attending the meetings of several neighboring chapters, but they are anxious to organize locally so that they may work together for local projects, as well as support the well-established state and national programs of A.V.C. A temporary headquarters of the Newton A.V.C. Chapter has been set up at 34 Park Street, in Newton (BIGelow 0363) and a program is underway to inform local veterans fully of the A.V.C. intentions and remarkable achievements. Will Direct Activities of 1200 Volunteer Workers in Campaign to Raise $2,250,000

The names of chairmen and commanders to serve in each section of Newton in directing the activities of more than 1200 volunteer workers in the general public campaign for Newton-Wellesley Hospitals' $2,250,000 Building Fund were announced today by Neil Leonard, chairman of the fund committee. The public campaign will begin early in June. Mrs. F. Marsena Butts of Newton and Thomas E. Shirey of Waban are the co-chairmen who will assist Mr. Leonard in the public campaign in supervising the organization and functioning of more than 150 teams of volunteers in 12 sections of Newton. In explaining the organization of the public campaign in Newton, Mr. Leonard said that there will be a men's teams organization and a women's teams organization. Each group, he said, will have a chairman in each of the 12 villages of Newton. In the larger communities, the chairmen will be assisted by commanders. Each commander will be responsible for a division of five teams of eight workers under a captain and a lieutenant. "The work of completing team membership in Newton will go forward rapidly," Mr. Leonard said today. "Our chairmen and commanders," he continued, "are thoroughly imbued with the urgent community need for the (Continued on Page 3)

Annual Exhibition of Homecrafters Club at Newton Centre Monday

Articles Made by Members in Leisure Time to Be on Display

The Newton Homecrafters Club will hold their annual exhibition of the works of craftsmanship of its members at the Newton Centre Methodist Church, Centre Street and Langley Road, on Monday, April 29. The hours of the exhibit will be from 3 to 6 in the afternoon and from 7:15 to 10 p. m.

As examples of what these greater Boston business and professional men can do to personify the manual arts in leisure hours spent in their cellar workshops, there will be shown articles of furniture that are mahogany works of art, also innumerable carved and glamorously wrought objects for household adornment. The Newton Homecrafters Club was organized by Russell V. Mead, of 56 Halcyon Road and William Hahn, of 214 Langley Road, both of Newton Centre, who discovered they had a strong mutual interest in craft work. They each sent out letters to about 35 persons and on receiving prompt replies the club was formed. The membership has increased so that it now numbers from 45 to 50. There are probably no clubs in New England like this "furniture makers' group. Among its members are retired bankers and brokers, railroad officials, physicians and men from many different walks of life, (Continued on Page 3)

Railway Express Glee Club to Present Concert

On Friday, May 10th, at 8:15 p. m., the "Triple F." Club of the Newton Methodist Church will sponsor an entertainment given by the Railway Express Glee Club at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, Newton.

The Railway Express Glee Club has been presented to enthusiastic audiences (Traffic clubs, civic, and church groups) throughout New England and New York. It has become renowned for its ability to present varied programs that appeal to all.

The personnel has increased from the original group of 12 to 24 and with that increase in membership has come a wide variety of talent. The club consists entirely of express employees from all departments. Their director, Warren L. Moulton, is an accomplished musician with a thorough background of musical experience.

The program is of a type best suited to the popular fancy and includes two special soloists, Mrs. Genevieve DeLong, and Mrs. Marion McDonough, a piano solo by their accompanist, Miss Bernice Carroll, a reading by Mr. J. O'Connell, and renditions by both the quartette and chorus.

A thoroughly interesting evening is in store for the anticipated large audience. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from members of the "Triple F." Club.

Hon. Sir Angus Wiltonshyre to Address 'Scout Parade' Audience

A surprise speaker at the "Scout Parade" Show sponsored by Newtonville Group, Boy Scouts at Newton High School Auditorium on Friday evening, May 3rd, has just been announced by Robert G. Toher, Vice Chairman of the Committee.

Hon. Sir Angus Wiltonshyre, Scottish character and orator, travelling incognito on an official mission, has consented to detour his itinerary to Newton for his only speaking engagement in New England. His address may shed light on questions surrounding his current visit. His platform reputation is that of an unusual speaker and an unsparing critic of men and events, according to American listeners who heard his rich Highland accent in "March of Time." No broadcast of his Newton speech will be permitted.

Announcement has also been made of some of the numbers to be sung at the Show by the featured 40-voice Pack Glee Club under direction of James H. Remley, director of music in Newton Schools. These boys, all from nine to twelve years of (Continued on Page 3)

First United Presbyterian Church Observes 100th Anniversary

The contribution made by the Christian Church to the upbuilding and sustaining of morality and high idealism receives emphasis this week in Special Centennial Services in the First United Presbyterian Church at Park and Vernon Streets in Newton to which location the congregation moved last week. This church has for one hundred years maintained a strong conservative Evangelistic testimony in the heart of Boston. Its Sunday evening services characterized by good music and strong preaching has always attracted large audiences. A paragraph in the Church Calendar on Easter Sunday states "This Church stands for an interpretation of Christian truth which has made a Notable contribution to American democracy. No other system of religion has been more insistent on the freedom of the individual, and none more insistent on the inculcation of high moral character and deep spiritual convictions, the principles which make freedom safe and justifiable." Spring Time Is Prevention Time

At this time of year fire prevention goes hand in hand with "spring cleaning." Spring is clean up time. And there is no better place to start than in your own home. From basement to attic the refuse has been gathering during all the long winter months. Closets too in many homes are stuffed with junk—inflammable junk. Now is the time, in the first warmth of the new season, to spend a few hours putting things in order. It takes but little time, and may prevent a fire in the deadly confines of closet or cellar at a later date.

Fire losses are near an all-time high, reaching more than $455,000,000 in 1945.

In another column we begin this week a series of articles and fire prevention suggestions prepared by the Newton Fire Department. They are well worth reading for the grief they may spare you.

Local Government Our Safeguard And Responsibility

We may well ponder the prophetic warning voiced by Thomas Jefferson, long ago, when he said: "When all government, domestic and foreign, in little or great things, shall be drawn to Washington as the center of all power, it will render powerless the checks provided of one government on another. And will become as vernal and oppressive as the government from which we separated."

Newton Centre School Association To Hold Bridge

The Ways and Means Committee announces plans for its last entertainment of the season, to raise money for the Newton Centre School Association.

A bridge will be held in the Congregational Church, Center street, Newton Center, on Wednesday, May 15th at 1:30 P. M.

Tickets are available at the Mason School. There will be door prizes, refreshments and hostesses to arrange tables.

The Committee is anxious to make this bridge a success and urges parents and friends to come and support this worthwhile work. The committee: Mrs. Dwight Colburn, Chairman; Mrs. Norman Tracy, Mrs. Nathan Pearson, Mrs. Robert Chapin, Mrs. Milton Grayson, Mrs. Malcolm Dunn, Mrs. E. Grippe.

GREATER BOSTON'S MOST REASONABLE FLORIST

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Chief Justice Stone

The sudden death of Chief Justice Stone of the Supreme Court removes from that tribunal the sole member of the Court who was not appointed by the late Mr. Roosevelt or his successor, President Truman. Justice Stone was, as most of my readers doubtless know, one of the famous triumvirate of liberals who ordinarily backed up Mr. Roosevelt on his New Deal legislation. The other two members of this group were Justices Oliver Wendell Holmes and Louis D. Brandeis, both of whom are now dead.

What will President Truman do now? The best guess is that he will raise Justice Robert H. Jackson to the post of Chief Justice. In the meantime, the Supreme Court will have to get along with but seven Justices until Jackson returns from Europe, where he has been handling the Nazi War Criminals trial.

Lodge vs. Walsh

At long last Col. Henry Cabot Lodge has made his great decision and challenged Senator David I. Walsh for a seat in the U. S. Senate. This action on the former's part immediately raises the hopes of Republicans in both state and nation. Locally, there is no question but that the presence of Lodge on the state ticket will be a source of tremendous strength to the entire ticket. Lt. Gov. Bradford, in particular, must be greatly heartened by this development. He is smart enough to know that a few weak spots on the state ticket may well jeopardize his own chances against the still-popular Governor, Maurice J. Tobin.

We shall have to wait until after the June primaries before we can tell just how much difference the Lodge candidacy will make. At the moment, it is a good guess that the three top men on the two major party tickets will be Lodge, Bradford and Coolidge for the G.O.P., and Walsh, Tobin and Dever for the Democrats. To be sure, there are already several men contesting Senate President Coolidge's bid for Lt. Governor and Mayor Cole of Lynn cannot be dismissed too lightly. However, the fact that the opposition to Coolidge is split will help the "man with the Name."

On the Democratic side, the only question is about the same position, namely, the second spot on the strictly local ticket. (U. S. Senator gets top billing, but the Lt. Governor is ordinarily referred to as next to the Governor in our own state affairs.) Here a strenuous contest looms between former Attorney General Paul A. Dever, one of the finest vote-getters ever developed by the local Democracy and Roger Lowell Putnam of Springfield, who once challenged Leverett Saltonstall for the Governorship. Just why two such strong men should be allowed to fight each other is a mystery to many who do not follow politics too closely. To those who like to peek behind the scenes, the answer appears to be that a Putnam candidacy would avoid an entirely green ticket, as the polls would say, whereas a Dever candidacy would help to build the strongest possible vote-getting ticket. After all, isn't that the main idea?

A few comments, now, on the Lodge-Walsh contest. My first thought after reading the announcement was that Col. Lodge had finally decided that the venerable Senator COULD be defeated and that he was not, therefore, inviting political oblivion by challenging him at this time. My next thought was that the G.O.P. high-command had finally sold the young Colonel a bill of goods by appealing to his party loyalty. My last thought, I regret to state, was that Col. Lodge had come to the conclusion that he undoubtedly DID have an obligation to offer his services in peace as well as in war. The only reason that this was my last thought instead of my first was that I saw no reason why a smart man like Henry Cabot Lodge should take so long to decide where the path of duty lay. And I make that comment in all kindness.

Well, what are the Colonel's chances? Quite good, it seems to your columnist. Furthermore, I have a strong feeling that his chances will definitely improve as time goes on. It is even within the realm of possibility that Senator Walsh might decide to retire after all, without exposing himself to the risk of a humiliating defeat. I tried to read between the lines of his very brief comment, when asked by newspapermen how he viewed the Lodge announcement. He sounded a bit surprised and, perhaps, a little bit hurt. Could it be that Senator Walsh thought that the colorful Republican would never, under any circumstances, run against him? Be that as it may, if I were a betting man, I should proceed to place a wager on the Republican.

Weekly Quiz

The answer to last week's quiz follows: There are now 23 Republican Governors in the United States. In the U. S. Senate, the Republican party holds 38 seats out of 96.

This week's question is: When did Newton become a city? Give the date, month and year. Name the first Mayor and ALL the original Aldermen.

In about two or three weeks I expect to offer a prize of a pair of nylon for the first correct answer to the weekly quiz. Better get your hand in on this one.

Newton in the Past

From the Files of The Newton Graphic

The Newton Tennis Club commenced work on their courts on Richardson street this week. The sod is being taken off and the courts put in good playing condition. The membership is rapidly increasing.

The new aerial ladder truck will be welcomed with honors upon its arrival at the truck house, Newtonville, the latter part of next month. The occasion will be marked by a banquet to which the citizens of Newtonville will be invited. It will be the most notable affair that has occurred for some time in fire department circles.

The city of Newton, it is believed, is the first municipality in this part of the state to honor ex-President Cleveland by naming a street for him. "Cleveland road" is the name of a new street leading from Waltham street, West Newton, on which 12 new buildings are in course of erection.

The increased hack fare which has been raised from 15 to 25 cents, has made but little difference in the number of people served, and it is a step which the carriage owners might have taken earlier, the present price being the same as charged the other side of the city. Newton Centre item.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Mary (Jane's friend)—Aren't you having a terrible time with this shortage of butter and oleo?

Jane—Oh, yes, I miss it, but we're getting along pretty well. For instance, I'm going to add some cream to these peas which I'm cooking for dinner. Bill is particularly fond of them that way; in fact, he says that's the way his mother used to fix them.

Mary—Yes, I like them that way, too.

Jane—And two tablespoonsful of light cream equal a teaspoonful of butter.

Mary—I've been making butter out of heavy cream.

Jane—Oh? But I figured out that that makes butter cost about $1.50 a pound at least. That's too hard on my pocket-book.

Junior—Hey, Mom, may I help you mash the potatoes?

Jane—Sure, come over here on this table. And Mary, there's another place where I've been using light cream for fat in place of butter—in mashed potatoes, baked, stuffed potatoes.

Mary—I guess there are a lot of tricks a good cook can use to make food taste right when there is a shortage of butter and oleo. I do do one thing that we like pretty well and that is, use little bits of bacon or bacon fat on cabbage or some of our greens. John comes from the South you know, and his family always cooks that way.

Jane—Yes, we really can get along pretty well without butter. Of course it supplies vitamin A in our diet, so without it I try particularly hard to make sure I use a lot of green and yellow vegetables.

able, the men believe, in that during the very short life of the organization, its Washington workers have testified by invitation before Congressional committees, its National Chairman Bolte has been very instrumental in securing veterans priorities to purchase surplus war supplies, it was the first veterans group to come out strongly against the attempts to kill the O.P.A. In this state the A.V.C. housing committee has strongly influenced legislators to expedite the passage of housing measures (specifically the bill permitting towns to waive portions of building codes to permit temporary housing construction and to sell veterans public owned land at a saving).

An A.V.C. Housing Rally, with their national housing chairman Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., as speaker, was held on April 24th at the Old South Meeting House in Boston.

The A.V.C. is operating on the basis that "what is good for the nation is good for the veteran," and is strongly emphasizing that the returned servicemen and the women should be "citizens first, veterans second." Their aim to have "a more democratic and prosperous America in a more stable world" is being used as a guide for vigorous action and not simply as a high-sounding slogan to enroll members. A.V.C. has no commitments to veterans of former wars. A.V.C. is not affiliated with any political party and endorses no candidates for office. A.V.C. is restricted to no race, color or creed. Membership entails no uniforms, no rank, and no military terminology.

A.V.C. offers the veteran the opportunity to best take his place as a citizen with a voice in government. Prominent national members include Bill Maulden, ex-Gov. Stassen, Col. Evans Carlson and many other World War II veterans who have been acclaimed as leaders in their fields and as representing GI attitudes and opinions.

Temporary Newton Chapter officers are William A. Medlicott of Newton, Vincent P. Maloney of Newton Center, and Howard C. Thomas, Jr., of Newtonville. These men feel that many Newton veterans have found or will find A.V.C. an organization which they will wish to join, and would like to hear from these veterans in order to send them more information and notify them of the next meeting.

Usually amateur built furniture is a little askew, but among all the members of this club there are none who cannot produce home pieces that would easily pull the eye in a top class furniture building and finishing rooms. Most of them are in the cellar, but there are one or two specially built on behind the family garage. None of the group work for anything except pleasure, as a chance to occupy creative powers when "off the job" or in the case of those who have retired, to help fill in leisure hours.

This exhibit, the first since the war, will with the aid of members of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, include a number of projects made by patients of the Cushing General Hospital at Framingham where several of the club members have given voluntary instructions in this particular phase of the rehabilitation program.

U. S. Clothing Appreciated In Holland

The following letter received by the Clapper Co. of West Newton this week from Holland is printed here because it will be of interest to the thousands of Newton residents who generously donated wearing apparel in the recent clothing collection for war-devastated countries.

Hillegom, Holland April 2, 1946

Friends: We are happy to report that no one goes hungry anymore. One still sees lots of barefoot or poorly shod and poorly clad children and adults. However, clothing relief shipments from abroad and government purchases feed our hope that also these war-sears may soon be memories only.

A few days ago we witnessed the opening of more than three million Croux buds in one of our fields. Just two colors, golden yellow and bishop's purple. A few hundred yards further, an immense field of whites and striped. We hope you order your Croux from these stocks.

The Tulip fields look promising. Some early varieties already try to display a bit of color. Hyacinths and Narcissus have early representatives in bloom. It's a bit cold for them yet, hence they hesitate. Everything points to a magnificent miraculous display of colors pretty soon.

Our field workers, happy in their warm American work shoes and water repellent American clothes, are getting very busy now, caring for our enormous acreage of bulbs. The product for American greenhouses and gardens must be as perfect as human care and skill can help make it. These same men, now in the fields, later follow the stocks into the curing sheds, grading rooms and packing houses. You can trust these men to do a good job for you.

Sincerely yours, M. Van Waveren & Sons, N. Y.

By: T. M. H. Van Waveren, President.

attractive church property formerly owned and occupied by the Channing Religious Society in Newton, is an interesting feature of this Centennial program. The complete renovation of the building and the installation of an up-to-date heating system and other facilities, make it a most attractive place of worship, as well as a center of help and friendship. The present location is most accessible by rapid transit from all parts of Metropolitan and Suburban Boston. Special Centennial Services are being held next Sunday with Dr. Thomas C. Pollock of Philadelphia as guest preacher. An attractive historical pageant written and directed by Miss Christine E. MacAskill will be presented on Tuesday evening. A Congregational Banquet featuring outstanding guest speakers will be held on Thursday evening. The principal speaker at this banquet will be Dr. Archibald K. Stewart of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, who will also be the guest preacher at both services on Sunday, May 5th.

Newton Y's Men's Club Organized

The Newton Y's Men's Club, the city's fourth service club, was instituted on Wednesday evening, April 17th at the Newton Y.M.C.A.

Arthur M. Jacobs, president of the new organization, received the charter from Henry D. Grimes, international Y's Men's Clubs secretary-treasurer. Dr. Chester M. Alter, dean of the Boston University Graduate School spoke on "1946 Onward" — A Challenge.

Dr. Alter stated that men under 40 years of age will fashion the coming era which will be dominated by individuals and small groups such as the new Y's Men's Club. He interpreted the motto of the club: "To acknowledge the duty that accompanies every right."

Kleber Campbell of the Worcester Y's Men's Club was the toastmaster and group singing was led by Larry Emmons, State "Y" secretary, who also represented the Two-State "Y" Staff. The Lawrence Y's Men's Club inducted team, under the direction of William E. Hamblett, president, instituted the new club under a lighted "Y" Men's emblem comprising a red triangle, a blue "Y" and a star with the name of the organization.

Campbell presented Robert Shoemaker, general secretary of the Worcester "Y," and Curtis W. Haug, Men's Division Secretary at the Newton "Y," who was active in the organization of the new club. Promises of cooperation were given by Warren W. Oliver, president of the Newton Rotary Club; William H. Sullivan, president of the Newton Kiwanis Club, and Dr. Charles M. Hall, vice-president of the Newton Lions Club, which provided the flowers for the head table. C. Roger Kronoff, Massachusetts District Governor of the Y's Men's Clubs read a letter from Regional Director Ernest V. Wallin, congratulating Mr. Haug and the new members of the Newton Y's Men's Club on securing their charter.

The Newton "Y" directors were represented by Walter B. Hatfield, chairman of the Activities Committee. Irving Smith, president of the Worcester Y's Men's Club, co-sponsor of the new group with a set of table flags. President Hamblett of the Lawrence Club presented the new club, a Y's Men's Club plaque. The gifts were accepted by President Jacobs. The benediction was offered by Clarence R. Newton Club Activities

Newtonville Woman's Club

For the fourth consecutive year, Miss Estelle G. Marsh was unanimously elected president of the Newtonville Woman's Club, an honor which no former president has received. Officers also elected on the same ticket are: Mrs. Walter F. Burt, first vice president; Mrs. Philip E. Goodhue, second vice president; Mrs. Edward F. Hendrick, third vice president; Mrs. Kenneth A. Bernard, recording secretary; Mrs. Clifford O. Mooney, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ernest F. Dow, clerk; Mrs. Harriet C. Bartlett, treasurer; Mrs. Clarence A. Wentworth, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Edwin P. McGill, secretary of finance. Committee chairmen are as follows: Hospitality, Mrs. Robert J. Karrer; Meetings, Mrs. Paul H. Hosmer; Program, Mrs. William A. Martineau; American Home, Mrs. Hugh A. McCrea; Art and Preservation of Antiques, Mrs. Frank A. Wightman; Children's Christmas Party, Mrs. Russell A. Fitz; Conservation and Flower, Mrs. Lewis T. Heath; Education, Miss Theresa I. Cram; Hospital, Mrs. Henry E. Johnson; Legislative and Defense, Mrs. Clement C. Desaulniers; Music, Mrs. Carl H. Baesler; Publicity, Mrs. George W. Lowell; Volunteer Service and Christmas Seal Drive, Mrs. Richard R. MacMillan; and Advisor to Junior Women's Club, Mrs. William J. Ray; the nominating committee for 1946-1947, consists of Mrs. George I. Whitehead, chairman, and Mrs. Chester I. Babcock, Mrs. Frederick W. Harding, Mrs. Frank M. Simmons, Mrs. William L. Vought.

A very large number of members gathered in the Social Hall at 1 p.m., for the annual luncheon arranged by Mrs. Robert J. Karrer, chairman of Hospitality. Seated at the head table were the President, Miss Marsh, the officers and chairmen of the many departments. Large bouquets of spring flowers, tastefully arranged by Mrs. Ernest F. Dow, chairman of Flowers, added to the enjoyment of the luncheon.

The business meeting followed in the auditorium, with the proceedings of the regular and the annual meetings. Mrs. Kenneth A. Bernard gave an outstanding report of the year's work, including the highlights of the work of each department. A long list of accomplishments which made each member have a feeling of pride and happiness.

Twenty-three new members have been welcomed to the club during the year. Miss Elizabeth Barrow, treasurer of the Junior Women's Club, brought greetings from the members of the club to the Senior club.

Mrs. Edwin P. McGill, chairman of Programs, has arranged many delightful programs during the year, but the one presented today was one of unusual charm and beauty. Three artists, known to discriminating audiences of New England, featured a program "Tapestries," Marjorie Shepard, reader; Mary Nevery, soprano, and Rhoda Joann, pianist. The program was divided into periods, the first, "Romance" with Miss Nevery singing "The World is Waiting For the Sunrise," Indian Lyric, "Moon Dear," and Miss Shepard gave an amusing sketch of a new bride bidding farewell to her family. The second episode was "Motherhood," depicting a dramatic conversation between Mary, Mother of Jesus, and the mother of Judas Iscariot. The next was a bit of scandal about a pretty French clock with a tendency to be a little "fast,"

Newton Upper Falls Garden Club

The first spring meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Henry A. Sharrott, 48 Cottage street, Newton Upper Falls on Monday, April 22 at 7:00 p.m. Mrs. James Doane and Mrs. J. Gilmore Powell served as assistant hostesses.

The members answered to the roll call by naming a particular tree of beauty and giving a few high points about it. Mrs. Henry A. Sharrott was appointed president for the coming year. The guest speaker was Mr. Harold O. Cook, State Forester, who gave an illustrated lecture on "Forest Problems of Massachusetts and What the State is Doing to Conserve its Natural Beauty and Resources." Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Newton Lions Club

Miss Lillian R. Fletcher, Assistant to the Director of Public Relations, Northeast Airlines, was the charming and interesting speaker heard by the Newton Lions Club Thursday evening, April 18th. Miss Fletcher, who has had more than 500 thousand miles of flying told of many experiences that were hers while acting as a Stewardess, and mentioned some of the celebrities she had had as passengers.

Throughout her talk, "What Makes An Airline Tick," Miss Fletcher, avoiding commercialism, nevertheless did an excellent selling job, for from now on, it's "Northeast" when the Lions travel, none of them being like that famous Senator from the South, who undoubtedly would object to the name "Northeast."

In telling of "What Makes An Airline Tick," the speaker took her listeners on a trip through the various departments, Reservations, The Ticket Counter, the Personnel office, Operations Office, Maintenance, Airport Control Tower, Airway Traffic Patrol, Stewardesses, and Public Relations. As she told of the relations of each to the other, Miss Fletcher stressed that each department was functioning for the safety, convenience and comfort of the passengers. Interestingly, she mentioned the many little thought-of courtesies that are a part of the efficient stewardesses, of the importance of checking every ship by the Maintenance crew before a flight, of the care used in planning each trip, of the use of radio and radar for safety.

The Club enjoyed the talk immensely. Following the talk there was a business meeting at which President Asa Blakeslee appointed the Nominating Committee which consisted of Herbert Dunn, William House and Fritz Borgman.

and her affection for a handsome lamp was always "going out." Old Vienna was the next episode, being the longing of an exile for her old home, with Miss Nevery singing selections from The Merry Widow, and Fritz Kreisler's Old Vienna. The splendid dictation of both Miss Shepard and Miss Nevery made every word enjoyable. Songs of the Gay Nineties followed and the last was the story of the Creation, written by one of the outstanding young Negro writers, with Miss Nevery singing "The Heavens are Telling." Miss Joann played only two solos, one by Debussy and the other by Rubenstein, but throughout the afternoon her playing was a beautiful background for the dramatic recitals and pantomime.

Newtonville Garden Club

The Newtonville Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. F. W. Harding, 575 California street, at 10 a.m., Thursday, April 25, 1946. Mrs. Frank C. Mildram will read a paper.

Eliot Arts Guild Spring Fling

Months ago in Hawaii Dick Grimm heard an all male octet thrill a Marine audience with their rousing songs. And when plans for the Art Guild's Spring Fling were being discussed, Dick suggested that an all male octet might also bring the rafters down in Newton. And presto—we had an octet! Although the members have not as yet decided whether to wear handkerchief moustaches, according to the traditional barber shop style, they have decided on songs by such favorites as Kern, Fruit, and Herbert. Members of the octet are: Dick Grimm, Scott Moller, Sidney Marston, Herbert Fraser, Everett Pierce, William Altieri Jr., John Eusden, and Ronald Gower.

Ann Avantaggio will accompany the octet.

Incidentally, last week we announced that Marvin Perry was to play the hero in the "Fling's" "They Ain't Done Right by Nell." There has been a change in plan, however, and now the hero is to be played by Dick Grimm, and the villain, by Scott Moller.

Reynolds, Miss Elizabeth Richardson, Mr. Charles O. Richter, Rabbi Samuel N. Sherman, Mr. Thomas E. Shirley, Mr. Alexander Standish, Mr. Philip VerPlanck.

Dr. Chester M. Alter, Dean of the Graduate School of Boston University, spoke to 125 Council delegates and friends on "Planning for our Newton Community," elaborating on Lewis Mumford's quotation from Faith for Living: "The final test of an economic system is not the tons of iron, the tanks of oil, or the miles of textiles it produces. The final test lies in its ultimate products—the sort of men and women it nurtures and the order and beauty and sanity of their communities." Dr. Alter stated that he believed the social trends of a community follow the economic trends. Since interest on endowments is rapidly approaching zero, new methods must be found for financing educational institutions and service agencies. He believes that the public has two choices: to give voluntarily for the new method of national giving, such as through community chests, or the government way through taxation.

An entertaining community quiz program led by Mr. Lysecom Bruce, bulletheaded Dr. I. Q., preceded the main speaker. Fourteen gold grapefruits, instead of fourteen gold dollars, and similar foods of high nutritional value were the prizes. The Floor Assistants were Mr. Clarence Mease and Mr. Charles Richter.

Six organizations were newly voted in to membership in the Council, making a total of 70 member organizations. Those voted in were the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, the Newton Council of Parent-Teachers Association, the Newton Improvement Association, Newtonville Woman's Club, Bowen School and Home Association and Emerson School and Home Association.

"Somebody Pulls the Strings . . ."

By Paul Considine

Many years ago, a Boston newspaperman, visiting with the editor of the old Newton Times, in Newton Corner, observed in passing, as he gazed through the dust covered office windows on the Boston bound crowd, awaiting the trolleys, at the car stop below, that if he ever discovered "what made them do it," he'd have the key to all the good things this world affords.

The Times editor leaned forward in his chair to gaze, puzzled, in the general direction of the crowd.

"Made them do what?" he inquired.

"Migrate, that's what I call it," answered his friend, as turning to view the crowd surging into the trolley, he stroked his chin thoughtfully. "You know, Eddie," he continued, "you've probably never given the matter of crowd psychology a great deal of thought. Few people do. It is, however, a subject that has fascinated me for years . . ."

"There's nothing fascinating in watching a large group of people pushing one another around," the editor interrupted. "They're just another in the never ending series of this world's annoyances to me."

The Boston writer grinned. "Yeah," he agreed. "Me, too. I give humanity plenty of room when I can. But that wasn't the thought I had in mind. So far as I'm concerned, they can push and pull to their heart's content. It's the fact that in the Roslindale, Medford, Roxbury and Framingham, and in every city, town and hamlet in this wide world, crowds are restlessly wedding their way hither and yon, at this very moment, also that intrigues me."

The office was silent as he puffed thoughtfully on his cigar. "Last night," he went on, "Boston, according to the records of theatres, cafes and the various night spots, was quiet. Few people came in from the suburban areas. Yet, as you will recall, it was a balmy evening. The establishments catering to the celebrators of the nighttime expected capacity crowds; they just never did materialize . . ."

"Tonight," he continued, "I can tell, by observing the trolley stampede outside, in Newton Corner, that Boston will be teeming with humanity from the four corners of the compass. They'll all be searching for a little fun and most of them will find it. The operators of the Big Town's fun spots will smile again, but only a few will wonder as to the urge or, maybe you might call it the influence, that seemingly controls and times, the mass desires of the world's humans."

The Newton editor frowned as he turned to the speaker.

"Jim," he inquired, "are you implying that there's a certain force abroad which influences human behavior? That, for instance, large hilarious crowds heading in the direction of entertainment, here, indicate similar groups are doing likewise?"

"In 'ast Walpole? That a quiet night in Quincy means the neighbors' children will be catching up on a bit of sleep in Reading . . . ? Is that what you want me to believe?"

Jim smiled ruefully. "I don't exactly 'want' you to believe anything other than what you choose to believe," he murmured. "I can only tell you that over a period of years, I have observed that mass psychology is pretty much the same at any given time. I know a taxi driver," he concluded, "a little guy. He's been driving a cab in Boston for more than 20 years. His stand is near the corner of Boylston and Tremont streets, in the vicinity of my office. He's a student of mass psychology himself, although he'd probably be surprised if you told him so. Living in Everett, he travels on the El to work, each evening, and when the train is crowded, the way in, he prepares for a busy night. An empty, or partly filled train, indicates a 'slow' night to him. He knows of my interest in crowds and makes it a point to give me his predictions several times each week, and he's seldom mistaken. Believe what you want. My taxi driver friend says that 'Somebody Pulls The Strings' and I'm inclined, definitely, to string along with him . . ."

The editor and the Boston newspaperman have long since passed on, but the above conversation was recalled to this writer's mind, recently listening to Frank A. Anderson, head of the Anderson Economic Laboratories, tell the Newton Kiwanis Club of the "Measuring Stick of Destiny" developed in the laboratories founded.

Anderson, an investment broker at the time, came out of the 1929 crash with the profound conviction that something beyond the power of man was responsible for such catastrophes. There just had to be something, he was sure. Discovering that his convictions were shared by others, highly placed in the world of business and finance, he decided to lead a safari, bent on exploration, into this hitherto uncharted jungle of the unknown. The search started in 1931, soon after the crash. It's still going on and the results, to date, are amazing.

For sixteen years, with the assistance of a small, but loyal, group of well-to-do clients, Frank Anderson and his staff of assistants have spent many long hours each day, and money running over six figures, seeking to prove that depressions and periods of prosperity are governed by mass consciousness, or mass psychology, and that these, in turn, are controlled by a cosmic force—the same Natural Law that times day and night, the change of seasons, and the ebb and flow of the tides.

At this time, Anderson has built a yardstick which reaches beyond the curtain of the future, and seemingly measures the pattern of things to come with an accuracy, demonstrated over a period of years, that confuses the skeptics and enthuses the large group who have benefited in management of their businesses and investments.

The Anderson Mass Psychology Charts are prepared One Year In Advance and indicate positive, negative and dangerous trends hourly, by the week. It's the result of sixteen years of laboratory research, in the correlating and identification of millions of psychological values, that successfully harnessed and measured a Natural Law which makes it possible to anticipate the effect of mass psychology trends. The changes affect the success or failure of every individual's everyday life, and for this reason, the Anderson Laboratories are publishing a chart, in booklet form, "Charting Your Destiny," which will reach the newstands April 24.

Shades of the past . . . It begins to appear that the question of the old Boston newspaperman, asked in a long gone day, "What Made Them Do It?," is about to be answered . . .

ON THE INSIDE

by MARVIN R. GOULD

This week's column is dedicated to a great guy, a great sportsman, a great runner, and a great patriot, the winner of the 50th anniversary B.A.A. Marathon, Stylianos John Kyriakides of the Olympic A.C., Athens, Greece. I know he is a great guy because 5 days before the marathon, this reporter spoke with him while he was working out and yours truly considers himself a pretty good judge of human nature. I know he is a great sportsman because of the fact that he did not make any predictions about his winning the race when asked by your reporter, "Who looks good to you, Stan?" He replied quite simply and honestly, "Kelly, Cote, and of course I would like to add that I will be in there doing my best." His winning on April 20 proves that he is a great runner and his shouting "For Greece" as he broke the tape at the finish proves that he is a great patriot.

This is going to seem like bragging but no sportswriter in the entire city of Boston picked Kyriakides to win. However, 5 days before the classic yours truly informed all of his friends that they would be watching the winner of the classic if they watched "No. 77, the Greek." Well this was one time that MRG was right and I felt a little like blowing my horn, so I did. (Am I conceited?)

SIDELINE SHOTS OF THE B.A.A.

The man to receive one of the biggest ovations from the spectators was the man that finished thirty-second, Clarence H. DeMar. Only one Newton man entered the race, but he was from Newton, New Hampshire, not Newton, Mass. (I fooled yuh) . . . Johnny Kelly, who finished second for the seventh time aided the Greek race. He also informed Stan just where the "bad" hills were . . . A certain reporter from a N. Y. syndicate was unable to enter the club house as he "forgot his press card." . . . Maybe Don Enoch, N.H.s. track coach might be able to get Kyriakides to go to N.H.s. so Newton will be able to win the state track meet this year. (Oh, I forgot Stan is over 18) . . . Out of 116 candidates 46 were from Mass. . . . Eight runners were from foreign countries. One from Greece, one from England, and six from Canada.

All I have been hearing lately is the question, "Who lives at DECatur 9700, is she a blond?"

Junior Achievement Organizes in Mass.

BOSTON, MASS. Joseph P. Sprang, Jr., President of the Gillette Safety Razor Company, has announced that the Dorchester Products Company, a miniature business run by teen age boys and girls engaged in the manufacture of the Rosebud hand lotion, met its first payroll.

Fifteen year old Treasurer Vincent E. McCarthy assisted by fifteen year old President Richard E. Harris distributed the eager members a total of $31.90 representing 15 cents per hour in wages and 10 cents per bottle commission on the 250 bottles sold and delivered. At the same meeting a check for $64.51 was drawn on the company bank paying in full for a scale, balance bottles, stove, glassware graduates, pail, spatula, thermometer, funnel, double boiler, 6 chemicals, and 1 perfume.

The Dorchester Products Company is one of the many units of Junior Achievement, a national educational organization sponsored by business, industry, and civic organizations aimed at teaching through "learning by doing" the principles of American business to teen age young people. It encourages boys and girls 15 to 21 to form miniature companies in which, advised by representatives of adult business, they learn the functions and practices of business by actually operating a business of their own. They also discover their natural aptitudes by rotation of responsibilities. Thus members of these companies become more employable when ready to enter the business world.

Bill Vincent, sixteen year old President, and Paul Quinn, sixteen year old Salesman of the Arrow Press Company of Newton recently explained the operation of their miniature business to a group of 50 Walpole businessmen. The young people sold $250 worth of stock at $1 per share, used $100 of the capitalization to purchase a press, $45 for paper stock, and $2 per month rent for their business center. In 6 weeks the company filled close to 40 orders including letterheads, chances, name cards, and business stationery for other Junior Achievement companies.

The Arrow Press met their first payroll amounting to $161 and closed their first period of operation with $105 in the company bank and a profit of 87 cents for their cooperative effort. The company is advised by the Sherman Paper Products Company of Newton.

Joseph P. Sprang, Jr., State Chairman of Junior Achievement of Massachusetts also announced the organization's plans for Massachusetts for 1946. New areas to be organized are as follows: Lynn, Salem, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Worcester, Quincy, Brockton, Attleboro, Taunton, New Bedford, Fall River, Brighton, Cambridge, Everett, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Somerville, Watertown, Waltham, Wellesley, South Boston, Hyde Park, West Roxbury, Chelsea, Walpole, and Revere. The program already operating in Newton, Boston, Dorchester, and Foxboro with over 20 teen age companies will also be extended.

The business interests of the young people runs into such varied fields as woodworking, chemistry, photography, plastics, radio, journalism, sewing, printing, secretarial service, toy designing, wood and paper novelties, entertainment, accounting and auditing, and even catering. The Pat-A-Cake Catering Co. headed by sixteen year old President Joannes Prives served a buffet luncheon recently to a group of young boys, the Jordans, grossing $18 of which $150 represented wages, $1216 cost of food and preparation, and $434 net company profit. The sponsor of this group is the Gilchrist Company.

The movement, according to Chairman Sprang, made rapid strides in expanding throughout the country. At the end of 1944, 231 companies were in operation. The end of 1945 saw close to 1000 companies in operation and plans for 1946 call for an expansion to a total of 4,000 companies with a membership of 40,000 to 50,000 young people.

Junior Achievement headquarters for Massachusetts are located at 30 Huntington avenue, Boston, Phone Kenmore 1717. Merritt A. Clegg is Executive Director of the movement for the state organization.

Too Late

The station agent from the small western town was making his first trip to New York City. He was interested in seeing the seals in Central Park and the skyline, but the great moment of the visit was to be his appointment with the lawyer for his railroad whose offices were in the Empire State Building.

The lawyer was a big man and a busy one and he could not help being a little surprised when the agent did not arrive for the interview. It was not until nearly two hours later that a faint knock was heard on the door, and the little agent limped in.

"What a climb," he gasped as he collapsed into a chair. "Eighty flights of stairs!"

"Good heavens, man," exclaimed the lawyer, "why didn't you take the elevator?"

"Well, I planned to," said the agent, "but it pulled out just as I got there."

Letters to the Editor

Swarthmore College,
Swarthmore, Penna.

The Editor,
The Newton Graphic,
Box 205,
Newton, 58, Mass.

Dear Sir:

The feature article in the Newton Graphic of March 21 which described the recent "Plan E" meeting in Newton gave, on the whole, an excellent picture of council - manager government. However, on page six, column four, four misstatements are made in the space of one paragraph, the answer to the question "Has Plan E ever failed?" In order to correct any false impressions which might have been created by this answer, I should like to present a few additional facts.

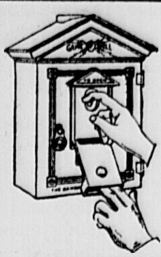

The council-manager plan has, as you or Mr. McLaughlin state, failed in a few communities. To be exact 28 municipalities have abandoned the plan in the space of 31 years. Since according to the official list of the International City Managers' Association, 608 communities in the United States and 646 throughout the world now use the council-manager form of government, the percentage of abandonment is 4.2%, not the 14% figure you gave.

The reasons for the 28 abandonments were not that the plan was "declared unconstitutional by the state court", but rather: (1) Because of defects in the city charter or disadvantages in the plan itself; (2) Because it was voted out through circumstances largely extraneous to the plan itself; (3) Because the plan received only a brief trial under adverse political conditions. In this case the cities had the manager plan in the letter but not in the spirit.

In our own state, the manager plan has not always met with success. Under "Plan D", which provides for a manager but not Proportional Representation, Waltham and Fall River attempted to reform their government. In Waltham, the plan was in effect from 1918-1922, and was voted out at that time because some said that the City Council was not truly representative of the wishes of the people. Proportional Representation would have undoubtedly eliminated the grounds for this criticism. The manager, however, was well-liked, and was subsequently elected mayor seven times. Fall River tried Plan D government from 1928-1934. Here, adverse conditions made survival of the plan difficult. The first manager was a politician, and after the finances of the city had been depleted by mismanagement and the economic collapse, a state-controlled Finance Board took charge of the city's finances. Under this board and a competent manager, the city was on the road back to financial stability, but politicians brought the ouster of the manager plan. Here again, the manager was elected mayor.

In only one city, Michigan City, Indiana, was the council-manager plan abandoned because it was declared unconstitutional by the state court. Cleveland is the most important city which tried the manager plan with Proportional Representation, and subsequently gave it up. The plan was in effect from 1924-1931, and was abandoned through political pressure. In both Toledo and Ashtabula, Ohio, the manager plan is still in effect, although Ashtabula, the first city to adopt Proportional Representation, has given up this feature. In Toledo, the manager plan has been most successful and their sixth Proportional Representation election was held last November.

At the present time in Massachusetts, communities other than Cambridge employing Plan E are Lowell and the four towns of Mansfield, Middleborough, Norwood, and Stoughton. Although

NEWTON FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE PREVENTION SERVICE

This past week there has been an excessive number of calls for brush fires. Most of these calls were from people that did not have permits to burn in the open. The State law governing fires in the open is as follows:

"Chapter 581 section 13. No person shall set, maintain or increase a fire in the open at an time unless the ground is substantially covered with snow, except by written permission, covering a period not exceeding five days from date thereof, granted by the forest warden or chief of the fire department in cities and towns, or in cities having such an official, the fire commissioner; provided, that no such permit shall be granted to be exercised during any portion of the months of April and May except upon rainy days; and provided, further, that persons over the age of twenty-one may, without a permit, set, maintain or increase a reasonable fire for the purpose of cooking, upon sandy or gravelly land free from living or dead vegetation or upon sandy or rocky beaches bordering on tide water, if the fire is enclosed within rocks, metal or other non-inflammable material. The forest warden, chief or fire commissioner, as the case may be, may make it a condition for granting a permit that any burning shall be done only after four o'clock (eastern standard time) in the afternoon and he may revoke a permit at any time. The forest warden may make rules and regulations relating to the granting and revocation of such permits binding throughout the commonwealth. Such rules and regulations shall take effect subject to section thirty-seven of chapter thirty, when approved by the governor and council. The forest wardens in towns and officials performing the duties of forest wardens in cities shall cause public notice to be given of the provisions of this section and shall enforce the same. Whoever violate any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one month, or both."

When you do burn brush or grass in the open follow these rules.

1. Obtain a permit from the fire department. This helps the fire department to regulate the number and locations of fires each day.
2. Prepare for emergencies. Have a hose hooked up to an outside water faucet, watering cans and pump tanks filled with water and brooms handy. If you have a sizeable lot get other people to help you. Don't take a chance.
3. Set the fire so that it will burn into the wind, never so that the wind is behind it and make it spread and get out of control.
4. Never burn on windy days.
5. Use an incinerator with a cover on it for burning waste or rubbish.

the results have not been as widely publicized as those in Cambridge, Plan E has been very successful in Lowell. Since January 1, 1944, when the plan went into effect the city's financial position has been greatly improved. Borrowing under previous administrations has been repaid, and the city's debt has been reduced by almost 50%.

In all cases, a distinction must be made between the council-manager plan as a whole, and Plan E used in Massachusetts. In the first place, it is not necessary to join the manager plan and Proportional Representation as is done under Plan E, although the best government occurs when this is the case. In the second place, the mayor of the city enjoys greater responsibility under Plan E than is usually the case. In addition to his usual duties enumerated in the article, he is the seventh member and chairman of the School Committee, the other six members being separately elected by

Air Shipper Research

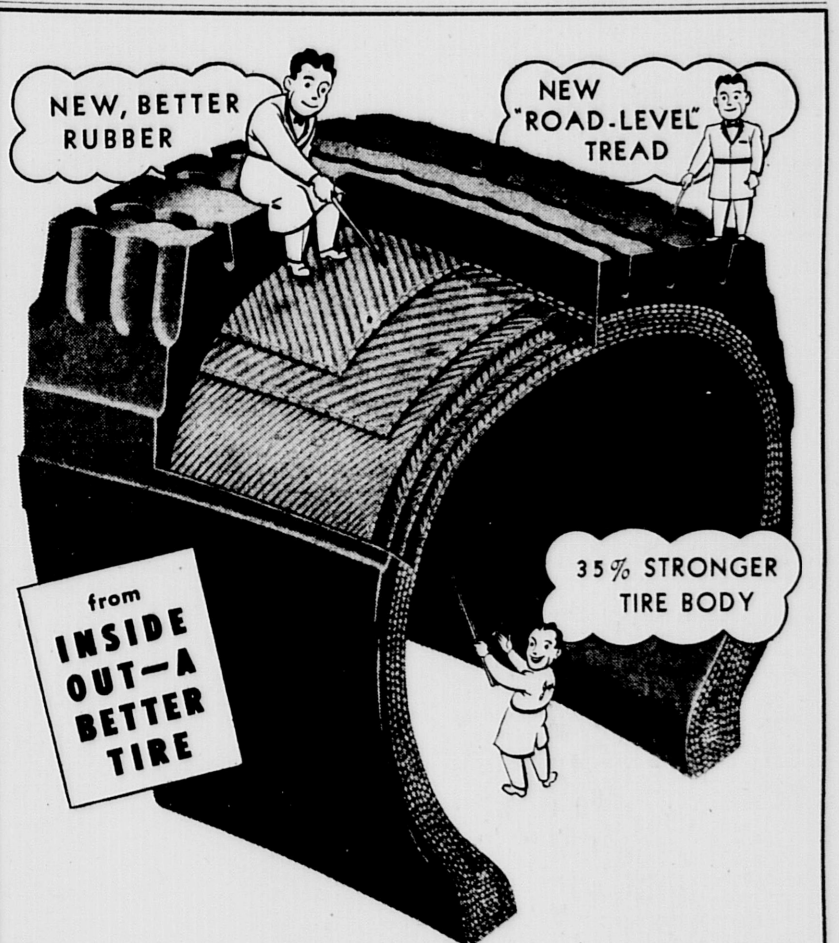

WASHINGTON — Due to continually rising shipments of air cargo bringing many new commodities to the airlines, the Air Transport Association of America is setting up a Shipper Research Division. The new division will study and prepare regulations dealing with the safe transportation of hazardous commodities by air. It will also direct laboratory experiments in the testing and analysis of packaging specifications.

Airplane Gas Tanks on the Farm

DAYTON — Surplus airplane gasoline tanks released by the army are being put to many different uses by farmers. Among these are feed and water troughs for stock, irrigation tanks, brooder houses for baby chicks, pontoons to support pipe lines across water and home made showers. The tanks also make fishing boats, duck boats, duck blinds, home-made showers, storage containers and sand boxes for children.

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches, on Sunday, April 28.

The Golden Text, "Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God. But exhort one another daily, while it is called today; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin," is from Hebrews (3:12,13). Other Bible citations include: "So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory" (I Corinthians 15:54).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the sacred sanctuary of Truth are voices of solemn import, but we heed them not. It is only when the so-called pleasures and pains of sense pass away in our lives, that we find unquestionable signs of the burial of error and the resurrection of spiritual life" (p. 232).

RECENT DEATHS

EDWARD CLAY SPROW

Funeral services for Edward Clay Sprow, son of Lawrence H. and Mary (Stone) Sprow of 76 Border street, West Newton, were held this morning from the Thomas J. Lyons Funeral Home, 1479 Washington street. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Bernard's Church at 9 o'clock. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Edward, who was 13 years of age and a pupil in the sixth grade at the Davis School, West Newton, was accidentally hanged on Monday afternoon when he had evidently fallen from an old piano bench in a hut which he and his chums had in the rear of his home, one end of a clothesline having become knotted around his neck.

Medical Examiner T. Morton Gallagher stated that the boy had died of a broken neck and expressed the belief that he had been practicing a movie stunt when the accident occurred.

Besides his parents he leaves three sisters, Anna May, Mary Elizabeth and Ethel Barbara Sprow and two brothers, Lawrence Henry Jr. and William Warner Sprow.

HARRY N. GUTERMAN

Harry N. Guterma, former assistant attorney-general of Massachusetts and U. S. Commissioner in Boston, died on Thursday, April 18 at his home, 6 Country Club Road, Newton Centre.

Mr. Guterma was in his 57th year. He was born at sea when his parents were on a voyage here from Europe. He was widely known as a philanthropist, all the income which he received as a public official having been distributed by him to Jewish, Catholic and Protestant charities. In 1925 he provided vacations for 2,000 young people, and while serving as president of the Boston Kiwanis Club, he purchased the Albert C. Burrage estate in South Hanson, Mass., and presented it to the Camp Fire Girls as a camp.

He was educated at the Huntington School and at Northeastern Law School. He was admitted to the bar in 1915 and served as U. S. Commissioner from 1934 to 1942.

Besides his wife he is survived by a daughter Miss Paula Marcia Guterma, a brother, Abraham A. Guterma, and three sisters, Mrs. Annea Clayman, Mrs. Rose Baker and Mrs. Rebecca Novick.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in Temple Sinai, Brookline, at two o'clock.

FRANK H. BRIGGS

Frank H. Briggs, retired painting and decorating contractor, died on Wednesday, April 24, at his home, 193 Newtonville avenue, Newton.

Mr. Briggs was in his 71st year. He was born in Newton and was a member of the Masons, the Order of the Eastern Star and of the Eliot Church of Newton.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Helen B. Briggs, a son, J. Malcolm Briggs of Marshfield and a daughter, Mrs. Leigh Stanton of Newton.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the Newton Cemetery Chapel.

OH, The Moths That Come in the Spring, Tra-La!

For Easter day your clothes were fine
So new and clean, dear mistress mine,
While we, your rugs, must weep and mourn,
With winter soil and wear forlorn.
Our nap is stiff with grimy sand
Imbedded deep where people stand.
Our colors too—if we could talk—
We'd say were dulled where people walk.
But worse than any dust or wear
The moths are getting in our hair!

Seek Amendments to Make U.N. a World Government

Newton voters will have an opportunity to vote on the movement to strengthen UN by amendments to make it a World Federal Government able to prevent war. Petitions to place the question on the ballot are being circulated in Senatorial Districts throughout Massachusetts. In Newton the work is under the supervision of Colonel Alexander Standish, former Chief of Intelligence Branch of General Omar Bradley's staff.

The question to appear on the ballot reads: "Shall the Senator in the General Court from the Middlesex and Suffolk District be instructed to vote to request the President and the Congress of the United States to direct our delegates to the United Nations to propose or support amendments to its charter which will strengthen the United Nations and make it a World Federal Government able to prevent war?"

Colonel Standish states that the movement towards international law backed by force directed by a central government is gaining strength throughout the world. Leading authorities of Great Britain, France, China, and Russia have spoken strongly for strengthening UN towards this end but the United States appears to hold back. The legislature of fourteen states in this country have passed resolutions asking for action but Massachusetts has not done so in spite of the fact that a similar question presented to the voters four years ago in 42 Massachusetts representative districts was carried by a vote of 202,000 to 67,000. The movement is backed by many of the best brains of the country such as William O. Douglas and Owen J. Roberts of the Supreme Court; Albert Einstein, S. K. Allison and Harold C. Urey, Atomic Bomb scientists; Grenville Clark and Thomas J. Mahoney, leading lawyers; Raymond Swing, Leland Stowe, Edgar Mower, writers and students of world politics; Owen D. Young of General Electric; Robert M. Gaylord, Chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers; James B. Carey, David Dubinsky and Phillip Murray, labor leaders, and a host of other well known men including Sumner Welles, Robert Allen, James P. Warburg, Clifton Fademan and former Governor Bass of New Hampshire.

During the summer and autumn, says Colonel Standish, a committee will be formed in Newton to insure that the question has the fullest possible discussion in public meetings throughout the city. "The signatures on the current petition will merely put the question before the voters. We hope for overwhelming approval. No one who has studied and experienced the potentialities of the German V-1 (pilotless aircraft) and the V-2 (long range rocket) and who knows the potentialities of the atomic bomb can fail to realize that the next war can easily destroy us. We must take the leadership and act before it is too late."

Army Answers

Q. On what grounds can a soldier lose points overseas?
A. While serving court-martial, as a garrison or general prisoner.

Q. I am a first sergeant's wife. Will our household furnishings be transported overseas at Government expense?
A. E.E.A., Vt.

Q. Transportation of household goods of first three grades is authorized only to certain points overseas at Government expense. It would depend on your destination.

Q. I served three years with the Massachusetts State Guard and have an honorable discharge. Am I entitled to the Massachusetts State Bonus or any veteran's bonus or benefits?
A. M.F., Westport Point.

Q. No. To be eligible for the Massachusetts State Bonus or other veteran's benefits, it is necessary for a man to have served a prescribed period of time on active duty with the Armed Forces. You would not receive any Federal benefits either.

Q. One of my sons was killed in Italy. I have another son in the occupation forces in Japan. Can he be transferred here?
A. E. G., Holyoke.

Q. The War Department now provides for such a transfer. Request should be made by your son to his commanding officer. In writing, for assignment in the United States, with substantiating evidence accompanying his letter to justify such a request.

Q. My husband in the Army sent me some money through the Government in December 1943. He said it would come from Washington but I have not received it. Where would I write to find out about it?
A. Mrs. D.D., Holyoke.

Q. Your letter does not state in what manner the money was transmitted. If it was by Personal Transfer Account, write the Finance Officer, U. S. Army, 2 Lafayette street, New York, N. Y.

Q. What is holding up our Air Mail from servicemen in Japan and Korea?
A. Hinsdale.

Q. We have no way of determining what the cause for delay may be. Many factors are involved. You may write to The Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C.

Q. My son was called for service on 14 July 1944 and has been overseas since January 1942. When may we expect him home?
A. H.A.M., Holyoke.

Q. The latest War Department criteria on discharges states: All enlisted men (except volunteers) with 40 points as of 2 September 1945, or with 24 months' service as of 30 June 1946, will be separated from the Army or aboard ship returning home by 30 June 1946. Further instructions will be issued by the War Department at a later date.

Q. Our son has been in the service since 25 July 1945. How could I get him out to help on our farm this summer?
A. L. S. M., South Lancaster.

Q. Unless he is eligible to apply for a dependency discharge due to hardship, he will have to wait until he has the required amount of service or number of points.

Q. My brother was inducted in July 1942 and received an honorable discharge in September 1944 on account of age. His discharge papers were stolen, and after making several applications he has just received them. When he tried for mustering-out pay he was told he had waited too long. They were not paying it when he left the service. Is there any way he can get it now?
A. M.Y., Randolph.

Q. Mustering-out pay was authorized as of 3 February 1944. If your brother was discharged because of age to enter essential industry, he would not be entitled to this pay, unless serving overseas.

Q. Where could I obtain legal advice? I am a soldier's wife and my son and myself were in an accident. V.N., Lynn.

A. For legal assistance, contact the Legal Assistance Officer, Headquarters: First Service Command, Army Base, Boston 10, Mass.
